

THE BODY OF Roland J. Hardy, 20, 39 Stofflet St., lies on the spot where it was found after he apparently was thrown from a pre-war convertible which police say was operated by Jack D. Harrison, 23, 40 Stofflet St. Hardy suffered multiple skull fractures.

POLICE EXAMINE the auto from which Hardy apparently was thrown after it went out of control early yesterday morning at the intersection of N. Courtland St. and Route 190 at Eagle Valley Corners, and crashed into a pole at the entrance to the Penn-Dell Dairy.

A BATTERED DOOR and running board lie near the body. Right door and running board on Harrison's convertible were sheared off during the mishap which claimed Hardy's life. Harrison, identified by police as the driver, had been charged with involuntary manslaughter.

Charges Filed Against Driver In Fatal Crash

TROUBLE MOUNTED yesterday for the driver of the pre-war car from which a 20-year-old Stroudsburg youth apparently was thrown to his death after it crashed into a pole at Eagle Valley Corners.

Police alleged that the motorist, Jack D. Harrison, 23, of 40 Stofflet St., Stroudsburg, failed to summon medical aid for Roland J. Hardy, 20, 39 Stofflet St., following the mishap. Harrison was later committed to the Monroe County Jail in lieu of $1,500 bail after a charge of involuntary manslaughter was filed against him before Justice of the Peace Marshall Neyhart.

But Harrison's troubles didn't end there.

Leader Calls For Spirit Of Compromise

By Richard L. Graves
HARRISBURG, Jan. 26 (P)—Gov. Leader contended today the legislative tax impasse possibly could be solved "in the next two weeks" if Senate Republicans join House leaders in the spirit of compromise.

"I think it is a commendable action and attitude on the part of the House leadership for them to set up a bipartisan committee in order to work out this tax problem," the governor declared.

"I would hope the same spirit of cooperation would prevail in the Senate and if it does there is a glimmer of hope that the tax problem could be solved during the next two weeks," Leader told his weekly news conference.

Rejects Referendum
At the same time the governor was cool toward the possibility of putting before the voters in a referendum the question whether they favored a sales tax or an income tax.

"A referendum wouldn't solve the problem in this session anyway," the governor said.

Groundwork for a new try at bipartisan tax compromise was laid last night when House leaders decided to set up a special committee. Both Republicans and Democrats would have equal representation.

"I think now the decks are cleared for working out a 50-50 proposal, which I made several weeks ago," the governor said.

Greater Appropriation
In other developments, the governor:

1. Conceded that the Pennsylvania Training School at Morgantown, Washington County, would always be a "difficult" institution to manage and called for increased appropriations for "a better staff."

2. Favored construction of 60 miles of the northwestern extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike between a point on U. S. 322 at connects Brookville and Meadville—and a point south of Pittsburgh.

3. Reaffirmed his stand that some 43 million dollars in overdue state aid to fourth class school districts would be paid between Feb. 10 and 15, though 53 million due first, second and third class districts will be held up until passage of a tax program.

U. S. Newspapers Report Biggest Year In History

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (P)—The nation's press had its best "volume" year in history last year with big gains in both circulation and advertising, Editor and Publisher reported today.

The trade publication released figures from its annual yearbook, due to come off the press at the end of February.

It said total advertising volume increased more than 10 per cent in 1955 to break all records, with a "modest increase" in rates.

Daily newspaper circulation increased by more than a million copies to a total of 56 million, also a record.

The publication said the circulation gain was the largest in one year since newspaper rationing ended in 1946.

It predicted a "continuation of the 1955 trend" upward during this year.

$128,525,000 Requested For Health Plans

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (P)—President Eisenhower today asked Congress to appropriate $128,525,000 for basic research in the "dark mystery" of cancer, heart disease, mental illness and other unexplained ailments.

This would be an increase of 28 per cent over funds provided for the current fiscal year ending June 30.

Eisenhower would allocate the new research money as follows: for cancer $32,437,000; heart disease $22,106,000; mental illness $12,749,000; arthritis and metabolic diseases $13,345,000; neurology and blindness $12,196,000; infectious and parasitic diseases $9,799,000; dental disorders $2,071,000.

Much of this money would go to medical schools, hospitals and private laboratories. The remaining $11,922,000 would be for the general research programs of the National Institutes of Health.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (P)—President Eisenhower called for a stepped up attack on cancer, heart disease and other ailments today but put off renewing his request for federal reinsurance of health insurance plans.

The President said he would re-evaluate the reinsurance proposal if "practical and useful methods" cannot be developed along other lines.

What the administration is now considering, he said, is legislative action which would permit private insurance companies to pool their risks so as to "offer broader benefits and expanded coverage on reasonable terms."

Know in Two Months
Secretary Folsom of the Health, Education and Welfare Department said the administration should know within two months whether the private companies are sufficiently interested.

"We have made pretty good headway," Folsom told reporters. In a special message to Congress supplementing his budget requests for the fiscal year starting July 1, Eisenhower laid down a five-point program which he said offers promise for "a renewed and reinvigorated attack on our health problems."

Recent years have brought "notable advances in the unending struggle against disease and disability," the President said, but much remains unknown.

Cause a Mystery
"Despite progress in the control of cancer, its cause remains a dark mystery," he said. "Little is known about the diseases of the nervous system. Much remains to be discovered about heart disease and mental illness."

Eisenhower proposed:
1. A 28 per cent increase in federal funds for basic medical research to a total of $128,525,000.
2. A new program for grants, totaling 250 million dollars over the next five years, for construction of medical research and training facilities. These grants would go to state, local and private institutions which supply "at least equal amounts in matching funds."

3. Further steps to alleviate health personnel shortage. No specific amount was recommended for this, but Eisenhower said the number of physicians being graduated from medical schools is barely keeping pace with the increase in population, and the number of dentists and nurses is diminishing in relation to strength.

4. Action to strengthen certain other basic health services throughout the nation.

5. Measures "which will help our people meet the costs of medical care."

Skip Price, Hemophiliac, Undergoes Six-Hour Operation For Removal Of Part Of Stomach Containing Bleeding Ulcer

SURGEONS at Monroe County General Hospital operated on Chauncey (Skip) Price yesterday. In a dramatic six-hour operation, Dr. Claus Jordan and his associates found the bleeding ulcer which has nearly cost Skip his life. They removed a portion of the stomach wall containing the ulcer.

The operation was, at least in the early post-operative stage, a complete success. Last night hospital officials said Price was in satisfactory condition, considering the circumstances surrounding the operation.

Skip is a hemophiliac. As such, any wound on the inside or exterior of his body will not heal. Since Dec. 2 he has been a patient at the hospital, suffering from an ulcer which would not, and could not, heal.

To keep the 29-year-old Mountaineer carpenter alive, doctors have given him an endless series of transfusions of fresh, whole blood—the only kind which can be used in the treatment of hemophilia.

As of this week, Skip had been given about 250 pints of blood. The net effect of these transfusions, according to Dr. Jordan, was to build Price's health and blood supply up to the point where an operation could be feasibly performed.

To get the blood needed for the transfusions, Price's father, Karl Price of Cresco, has carried on a ceaseless campaign for donors. The elder Price has succeeded in getting donors from all over Northeastern Pennsylvania.

So far they have come from Nazareth, Pottsville, Phillipsburg,

N. J., Portland and Scranton. Most of the blood, of course, has come from Monroe county donors.

Response To Pleas
The response to pleas for blood has been "wonderful", Karl Price said last night. And, he said, everyone has been wonderful to the family, too. He praised doctors, nurses and technicians at the hospital and pointed out that during yesterday's crucial operation there were "10 members of the hospital staff standing by, ready to give blood if they were needed."

Because of the hemophilia, the operation on Price was one of the most delicate imaginable, one hospital source said. The operation itself—removal of a part of the stomach—is a fairly common one in the treatment of severe ulcers.

Few operations, however, have brought about the enormous interest that the six-hour session yesterday brought from residents of this area, including hospital personnel.

Last night, there was no definite indication that the solution to Skip's problem had been found. His recovery will depend on a number of circumstances.

Earlier this week, Skip's wife had termed the operation a "chance." Like Skip's father, she had accepted the chance on its own level, expecting neither too much nor too little. Both she and the father had expressed complete faith in the hospital and the surgeons.

Yesterday, the chance had been taken. Last night, at least, it had paid off. Skip had come through in good shape.

Ex-Officials Didn't Finish County Records, Says Auditor

MONROE COUNTY commissioners were told yesterday that the former Republican board did not complete last year's records.

Henry McCool, chief clerk for the present Democratic board, estimated it will take his office staff at least three weeks to complete the job allegedly left undone by the former clerks.

The matter was brought upon when Mahlon S. Beseker, chairman of the board of auditors, appeared before the commission to report that the last entry for expenditures made by the former board was made on Dec. 28.

Ledgers Unfinished
Both the general and institutional ledgers were left unfinished last year, Beseker said, and half of the primary and general election districts were not posted.

Board Chairman John R. Lesoine said he believed these facts should be placed in the minutes "to protect the present chief clerk."

The matter ended when Lesoine moved that McCool be directed to complete the institutions and general ledgers for 1955. The motion was adopted.

In other action, the commission unanimously agreed to sign a "cooperation agreement" to accept a Federal annual payment in lieu of taxes should subsidized low-rent housing units be erected in the county.

Take Action
The board took this action after hearing from Rev. Roger C. Stinson, chairman of the Monroe County Housing Authority, and Atty. Edward Prosen, counsel for the New York City office of the Public Housing Administration.

The authority has applied for 200 units for Monroe County. It has asked the PHA for 100 units for East Stroudsburg and for 50 units in both Stroudsburg and Stroud Township.

Both Mr. Stinson and the attorney explained that the units would be built on unimproved land on which the county is not getting very much if any taxes. They noted that the annual payment would be distributed among the local taxing bodies.

Loss Industry
"Three companies last year turned down Stroudsburg as a site for new industry because of a housing shortage here," said Mr. Stinson. County Solicitor Leo A. Achterman noted that these subsidized housing programs are "proving to be very beneficial in many areas of the state."

"Taxing authorities generally get more money," he said, "I believe it's a step in the right direction. It's something that's been needed here for some time."

Commissioner Willard Quick moved that the resolution be adopted. It was passed without dissent.

Marriage To Prince Of Monaco Will End Grace Kelly's Acting Career, He Insists

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 26 (P)—Grace Kelly's marriage to Prince Rainier of Monaco will mean the end of her acting career, he said today.

He received the Hollywood press in the baronial Bel-Air home he has rented for his month's visit here and appeared to put an end to questions about his fiancée's film future.

"I think it would be better if she did not attempt to continue in films," he replied. "I have to live there (in Monaco) and she would live here. That wouldn't work out."

1,500 Flee California Flood Waters

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 26 (P)—One of the worst rainstorms in southern California's history slackened tonight.

Some 1,500 persons had been evacuated from homes in the path of raging runoff torrents that raced seaward, for a time posing a serious flood hazard to some 10,000 homes on the west side of Long Beach, 25 miles south.

Tonight, after the rainfall had reached 7.24 inches here, Army engineers reported that the crisis at Long Beach had passed. Sam Vickers, city manager there, made the announcement. He said he had cancelled the alert after engineers told him they had strengthened a flood control channel passing through the heart of that city of 300,000.

Vast areas of Los Angeles County were covered with water, the depth of which was serious in some places. Flood channels ran brimful even after the storm abated, and in a few areas evacuated residents were urged not to return until the rain stops.

The Weather Bureau forecast more rain during the night and tomorrow, but predicted it would range from "moderate to showery."

The storm started yesterday about 6 a. m. Since then, 7.24 inches of precipitation brought the seasonal total to 10.5, against 6.64 last year.

Tribute To MacArthur

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (P)—Republican Congress members today paid tribute to Gen. Douglas MacArthur, celebrating his 76th birthday.

Road-Building Bill Offered By Democrats

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (P)—House Democratic leaders introduced their highway construction bill today—a $1½-billion-dollar program covering 13 years of road-building.

They omitted financing provisions at this time. New taxes are being considered to provide the money.

The total includes 25 billion dollars to be paid by the federal government for modernization and expansion of a 40,000-mile system of interstate highways. The states would contribute about 2½ billion to this project.

Regular federal aid to highways would be increased so that the federal government would be putting up $11,375,000,000 for this program in 13 years. The states would put up a like amount on the regular matching basis.

Access Roads
In addition, the federal government would spend about a billion dollars for access roads over the of the Roads subcommittee of the whole length of the program.

Rep. Fallon (D-Md.), chairman House Public Works Committee, introduced the measure.

The staff of the House Ways and Means Committee, where the tax legislation originates, is working on tax increases to finance the highway program. New tax revenues under consideration are reported to total between 14 and 17 billion dollars.

Opposition to tax increase, particularly from truckers, caused trouble when highway legislation was considered in 1955.

Tax Hikes Defeated

The House defeated last year's $8-billion-dollar highway construction bill, which provided increased taxes on gasoline, tires, tubes, and buses.

The House also defeated the administration plan for a 38-billion-dollar program over a 10-year period, to be financed mainly by a 21-billion-dollar bond issue outside the debt limit. The administration dropped that plan this year. President Eisenhower has urged highway legislation with "an adequate plan of financing."

School Aid Opposed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (P)—A bill for federal aid in school construction ran into heavy fire in the House Rules Committee today. But Democratic Leader McCormack (Mass.) said he expects it to be cleared for floor debate the week of Feb. 6.

False Sense Of Security Real Danger

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (P)—Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin is reported to have proposed to President Eisenhower that the United States and Russia sign a treaty of friendship in the interests of promoting world peace.

Information to this effect circulated in official and diplomatic quarters here tonight in the absence of any formal disclosure from either the White House or Moscow about the "friendly letter" which Bulganin sent to Eisenhower Wednesday.

Will Reply First
The letter is expected to be made public eventually, perhaps when the President and his advisers have had time to prepare a reply.

It is believed to have been discussed at today's meeting of the National Security Council and some word of it has presumably been given to congressional leaders.

According to the best available information, the major purpose of the communication from Bulganin, whom the President met at the summit conference in Geneva last July, was to lay out the treaty proposal and suggest that the making of such a pact between the world's two great atomic powers would contribute to the development of an atmosphere of peace and confidence.

It appeared unlikely that Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles would be very seriously interested in carrying through such a proposition, however courteously the President may respond to it. Both Eisenhower and his secretary of state are known to be opposed to any measures which in their view would create a false sense of security in the world.

The Bulganin treaty draft apparently would make no basic change in the fundamental relationships of the two nations. On the contrary, it would commit them to settle their differences within the framework of the United Nations Charter and to avoid interference in each other's internal affairs.

Contempt Rap Lifted By U. S.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (P)—The U. S. Court of Appeals today upheld the refusal of a labor leader to tell House investigators whether fellow unionists had been Communists in the distant past.

The 2-1 vote reversed the contempt of Congress conviction of John T. Watkins of Rock Island, Ill., a regional organizer of the United Automobile Workers.

The court majority held that questions Watkins would not answer were not pertinent, and were outside the scope of the authority of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Gaynor Rites Announced

FUNERAL services for Dayton Gaynor, 50, of 49 N. Third St., Stroudsburg, who died Wednesday, will be held Saturday at 11 a. m. at Lanterman funeral home, East Stroudsburg.

Rev. Harold C. Eaton will officiate.

Interment will be made in the North-South Cemetery, Mount Pocono. Monroe County Joint Memorial Committee will hold full military rites at graveside. Friends may call at the funeral home tonight from 7 to 9.

Gaynor served in World War Two in the U. S. Army in Italy. He had lived in Stroudsburg the past 20 years. Until the time of his illness he was employed by LaBar's Rhododendron Nursery, Stroudsburg.

House Blocks Labor Bills, Says Mitchell

By Norman Walker
WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (P) — A long-developing feud over the way the House Labor Committee has handled administration proposals broke into the open today.

Secretary of Labor Mitchell told a news conference that Chairman Barden (D-N.C.) has been bottling up many legislative plans of President Eisenhower without letting them go to hearings.

Barden laughed when he heard of Mitchell's remarks and said, "Somebody should have whispered to the gentleman that I didn't come up here to be dictated to by him or any other administrator."

"If he'd spend more time administering the laws he already has instead of trying to run Congress, we'd be better off," Barden added.

Vigorous Enforcement
This prompted a further statement from Mitchell that he was "glad to be able to report to Congressmen Barden that labor standards laws have been more vigorously enforced by this administration than ever before. . . . It is my job to 'foster, promote and develop' the welfare of wage earners and I will continue to do so."

Mitchell got into the subject when newsmen asked what he thought of the chances of administration labor plans being approved by Congress this session.

Mitchell said the prospects were dim because so many proposals had languished in the House Labor Committee last year without hearings and he had no reason to believe the situation would be any different this year.

Each received gifts of a pocketbook, gloves and a gold bracelet. Jack Lesoine was toastmaster.

Pessimistic
"I am pessimistic about being able to get a House hearing on any bills involving the welfare of the workers," Mitchell said.

He said that among the bills backed up in Barden's committee is one providing "badly needed revision" of workmen's compensation for longshoremen and harbor workers, another to require overtime pay beyond 40 hours a week for workers on federal construction projects, and a third providing grants to states for safety programs.

Two Majors Honored By Signal Depot

A RECEPTION and dinner in honor of Major Matthew G. Bedell, retiring Tobyhanna Signal Depot engineer and Major John P. Glennan Jr., depot inspector general, who is being reassigned to Loverno, Italy, was held last night at the Mayfair Club at Dupont. The affair was attended by some 150 fellow officers, civilian employees and their wives.

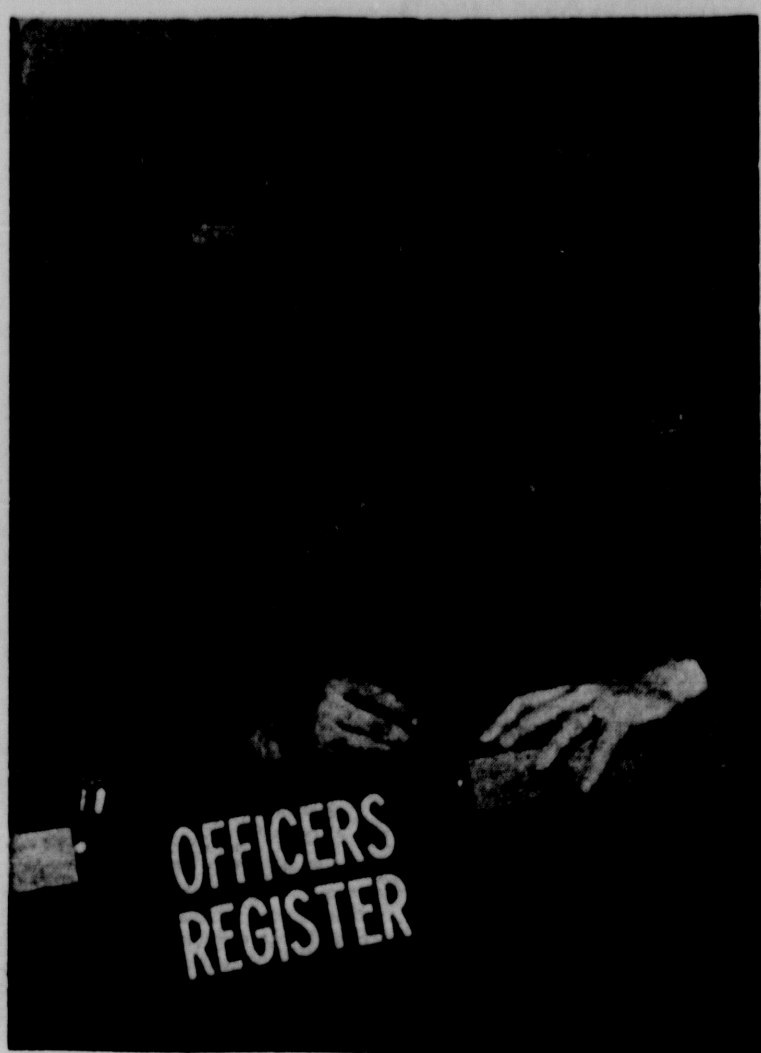

Col. Robert C. Angster, commanding officer of the depot, paid tribute to Major Bedell for his outstanding services while acting as post engineer and assistant engineer of the depot. Major Glennan was lauded by Col. Angster for his accomplishments while serving as depot inspector general since 1953. Other speakers were Lt. Col. Fred Sorady, chief, Depot Facilities Division; Capt. Andrew Dolziski, finance and accounting officer and Fire Chief James H. Oakley.

Major Bedell, a native of McKeesport, attended grade and high school there. He attended Carnegie Tech where he majored in civil engineering. After leaving school he was employed by the U. S. Steel Corp. in McKeesport. He enlisted in the Corps of Engineers in October 1935 as a private. His service has been continuous since then. Major Bedell served through all grades from private to Major. His tour of duty included service in Iceland, Europe during World War II where he served with the 12th Army Group from 1943 to 1945. He then served in Japan prior to being assigned as post engineer at the Tobyhanna Signal Depot.

Moving To West Coast. Major and Mrs. Bedell and their daughter, Susan, will move to Auburn, Wash. where they plan to make their home. Major Bedell's plans for the immediate future is to get caught up on his hobbies of hunting and fishing.

Major Glennan has received orders transferring him to his new assignment with the Signal Corps in Loverno, Italy, reporting for duty in March. A native of Woodbury, N. J., Major Glennan attended high school in Gloucester, N. J. He enlisted in the U. S. Army Signal Corps in Camden, N. J. in 1938, earning a commission as second Lieutenant in Signal Corps (AUS). He served in North Africa and Italy during World War II, returning to the U. S. in November 1949 as captain. He was assigned to the Signal Corps Engineering Lab at Ft. Monmouth from January 1946 to July 1950. In September 1951, he was reassigned to Japan and served there until August 1953, reporting to the Tobyhanna Signal Depot in September 1953 as depot inspector general.

Invasion Craft Mass North Of Matsu Group

TAIPEI, Formosa, Jan. 26 (AP)—Red China's mainland guns blasted Kaoteng last night and invasion craft are massing just north of that tiny Matsu group island, the official Central News Agency said today.

Communist batteries fired 133 shells into the island in the heaviest bombardment of any Matus in the vast pocket war, the agency reported.

Earlier in the day, the Reds had fired 22 rounds at Kaoteng across the four miles of water that separated the island from the mainland. Nationalist quarters predicted further Red shelling as the build-up continues near the Matsu group, 100 miles northwest of Formosa.

The Interior Ministry's Tatoo News Agency said without confirmation elsewhere that Russia had given approval Jan. 10 in Peking to a Chinese Communist invasion of Nationalist offshore islands.

Bent on Attack. The report, true or not, coincides with the Nationalist insistence that the Communists are bent on attacking the Matus and Quemoy—across Formosa Strait—regardless.

Central News said the bombardment of Kaoteng began at 9:40 p.m. The Nationalist garrison had fired flares to observe the movement of supply craft coming from the river port of Poochow, west of the Matus.

The supply craft were reported under escort of four gunboats and proceeding northeastward toward Loyuan Bay, which is only 15 miles north of Matsu, main island in the group.

Central News asserted one of the gunboats was hit and caught fire. The mainland batteries opened up to protect the convoy and a gun duel with Kaoteng's artillery raged for nearly an hour, the agency said, and quoted the Matsu command as saying Communist landing ships, gunboats and other armed craft were concentrating in Loyuan Bay. From there it would be relatively easy for the Communists to turn the corner of the peninsula and descend upon Kaoteng, which is only seven-tenths of a square mile in area.

The fall of Kaoteng would put heavily fortified Matsu within range of Communist guns. Matsu is five miles south of Kaoteng.

Official quarters said Nationalist determination to defend the offshore islands was too well known to require a formal restatement. This was their reply to reports published abroad that Sir Anthony Eden, British Prime Minister, would urge President Eisenhower to persuade the Nationalists to quit the outpost islands.

Latin America, including the West Indies, is estimated to have approximately 173 million people. This is about the combined total of Canada and the United States.

Holding Tax Line, Cleaning Up State's Allocation Good News For Boro Taxpayers

Good news from Stroudsburg Council Wednesday night.

Despite heavy battering of streets and other facilities by flood waters last Aug. 18-19, and despite plans for a heavy program of street improvements outside the "flood area", the Borough Fathers are holding the line of taxes.

Their proposed budget, completed and now open for public inspection, is based on the 1955 tax rate of 17 1/2 mills and a $5 per capita tax.

That kind of management of municipal affairs leaves little to be desired, especially when the taxpayer pauses to count up such services as a constantly expanding street lighting system, excellent police protection, support with proper equipment and supplies of a volunteer fire protection, sound street maintenance and a myriad of other services which many of us sometime take for granted.

There was another bit of good news given to council and the borough's taxpayers at Wednesday's meeting by Chief Burgess Hal H. Harris and Council President Edward R. Lawson.

It involved an agreement Mr. Harris and Mr. Lawson reached in Harrisburg Wednesday with Secretary of Property and Supplies John S. Rice, representatives of Department of Public Instruction and the Attorney General's Office for payment—finally—of the long delayed appropriation of $55,000 toward capital costs in expansion of local sewage treatment works because of service to State Teachers College. That appropriation was legislated in 1953, but for one reason or another the borough had not received payment and in effect was losing interest on that sum.

The $55,000 allocation will be turned over to the Stroudsburg Municipal Authority for the purpose of retiring that amount of bonds floated to finance expansion of the treatment works and the West Main St. sewer lines.

At that same time Mr. Harris and Mr. Lawson pointed out that the $55,000 appropriation was based on an estimate of $110,000 for the expansion work, whereas its actual cost was $176,000. Mr. Rice agreed with the local officials that $66,000 difference in cost, plus back rent for treatment of sewage from the State Teachers College line, should be negotiated in favor of the Borough of Stroudsburg.

In other words, competent official action by the council and negotiation by Chief Burgess Harris and Mr. Lawson has given taxpayers of the Borough of Stroudsburg particularly valuable presents — no increase in taxes, an appropriation long overdue and additional sum to rectify an injustice to the borough.

We'd like to say our "well done" now and suggest you do likewise.

TB Society Plans To Maintain Plans For X-Ray Services To Local Citizens

To all intents and purposes the Monroe County Tuberculosis Society's annual Christmas Seal campaign has concluded with about $10,881 compared with $12,500 budgeted for 1956 operations.

Despite that difference between goal and actual returns, the society is moving out for not only monthly x-rays of people in industry schools and operating its continuing x-ray operations with its own machine at the General Hospital.

The urgency of this program is heightened by the fact the society is exploring a plan to collaborate with a proposed project with the Cancer Society to provide an x-ray detection project in a specific age class of men.

These services will be continued day-to-day until funds will no longer permit. The important fact is that the society refuses to halt at this time any of its planned health services to the people of Monroe County.

George Sokolsky Says...

Ike Must Answer Presidential Question On Basis Of One Who Has Been Near To Death

As I lie here, looking at a beige ceiling, asking myself questions which only I can answer, I can well understand why Ike Eisenhower could not tell the anxious Republicans whether he would be their candidate. Cardiacs are curious people. They have had a bump not only to their heart but to their ego. In the bookkeeping of life, each cardiac knows that he might have been counted out. No one can explain to him why his case is moderate or mild and not severe.

So he lies immobilized, taken from all his importance and greatness. These heart doctors are pretty tough; they do not bargain because bad judgment means death. Rest, sedation, no telephones, no visitors; in some cases, they do not even permit newspapers or the radio.

So one thinks, and curiously most of his thinking is about himself. The cardiac, particularly a coronary, comes out of this devotion to himself a pretty chastened man. The items stacked up on both sides of the ledger, it is easy to tell a huge autograph when you say to yourself, when you are all alone, and the doctor has just told you that the scar can be widened by a physical or emotional upset. Who is greater, the patient or the hypodermic needle?

The Republicans would like Ike to run because they believe that he can lead them to another victory. But his problem is that six-week period of immobilization in Denver when every day, for hours he lay on a bed, with only a nurse in the room, with his wife, a limited visitor and instructed to say nothing to move him emotionally. As his intellect broke through the sedation, he was like every other coronary — the question that was never answered was, how much damage has the attack done? It was not answered to his satisfaction, even if the doctors smiled when they said whatever it was they said. The patient always feels that the doctor cannot possibly know, that he is hoping for the best.

Ike Eisenhower would undoubtedly like to please the Republicans, particularly the businessmen, who have done so much for him. He would like to run again and then he could leave administration to Sherman Adams and philosophy to his brother, Milton. After all, a general is accustomed to passing orders down the line. But this illness makes everything very tough because moral problems are generated by it. No man comes close to death without being charmed by it. Things that seemed cute and smart do not look so good. The word, duty, takes on a meaning and you have to answer, duty to whom? To God? To country? To family? To self? To a group of scheming politicians who appropriate whatever spoils arise from a situation? Duty to whom?

It is very upsetting to get this kind of sickness. A broken leg can be mended, but here it is to be or not to be and it might have been written not to be. It is an illness which must give even the churl a sense of history, if nothing else, his own history. Certainly Ike got more out of his American life than his parents could have bargained for; I certainly did. So the ledger is not balanced; there are obligations to pay off, profound obligations.

Does one pay off such debts by winning an election for a political party? Maybe yes! I do not lie here in judgment of any man; I have enough difficulty squaring my own accounts. Still I ask: would it be a repayment of Ike Eisenhower's great debt to America to win the 1956 Election for the Republican Party even if he knows in his heart that he cannot carry the enormous load of the Presidency? I cannot answer that question. Only he can.

But what the politicians had better know is that he will run answer it on the basis of cardigrams, or sedimentation records, or blood counts, or what this or that doctor says to him. It is too late for such things to matter.

He will answer it on the basis of one who was very close to death and who feels that his duty involves a risk of another bump, the next one a fatal bump, perhaps. He will answer after he has come altogether at peace with himself and does not fear the consequences of his decision.

Daily I am told that once cured of a coronary, one can live his normal life if his normal life has been sensible. But the man who has suffered a coronary takes on responsibilities not with the buoyant hopefulness of youth but with a sense of maturity, a great sense of personal responsibility. He has already had his gamble with life and understands what it means.

bothered to review it, didn't read it until after publication and didn't even know the title. Brother, you take chances. Three trips to a brink of war are two over par on any course, and even when you get into print on one brink of war you had better check on how it looks in type. The quote "The ability to get to the verge of war without getting into war is a necessary art" is what caused all the rumpus and you admit this was "ambiguous." Gosh, Foster, an ambiguous brink is the worst of all brinks.

Somebody in your office looked over the article, went over brink after brink and passed it as if he took precipices as routine and could lick any abyss in the house. (He must have trained for this work in some Alpine pass, letting St. Bernard dogs carry his blue pencil.) Well, be careful from here in. And tell General Ridgway you hope he finds time to read what he writes. War is war but it is nice to find peace on the newstands.

Advertisements Today Are Educational, Entertaining

It's a good thing I'm a slow reader and have to cover a lot of ground. That forces me to concentrate my reading on just straight reading matter.

If I often yielded to the temptation to daily among the ads I'd be sunk.

So many ads nowadays offer such fascinating lures to any browser who is looking for something a bit off the beaten track.

The Madison Avenue wizards have moved a long way from the old-fashioned advertising appeal that got straight to the point, with no monkey business. Seldom any more do you see an ad of the kind that used to say in black sturdiose type: "BUGGY WHIPS" ... Best Quality! ... Jno. Trueheart & Sons."

People just aren't thinking of buying buggy whips any more, apparently. In fact, they aren't thinking of buying anything in particular. They have to be led into it by roundabout routes.

You open a magazine and see a big picture of a beautiful red sunset over a black horizon. Now, you're pretty sure nobody is trying to sell sunsets, so you delve into the small print to see what's up.

"The dawn of a New Year," it says, "has always been a symbol of hope for mankind. It brings new light, new promise. (Presumably that's a sunrise instead of a sunset). And today, at the dawn of another ..."

To make a long story short, what that ad is selling, it's selling chemicals. And probably not in the handy, pocket-size containers, either. More likely by the trainload.

Or you see a picture of a delighted housewife at her front door preparing to sign a delivery receipt for several big crates labeled "Range," "Washing Machine," "Clothes Dryer," "Television" and "Freezer." But the company running the ad is not selling any of those things. It's selling copper. You draw the copper out into stout wires, install them in the house and those appliances will run without blowing a fuse.

Or there is this curiosity-piquing picture of a potato, an apple, a scientific-looking bottle, and some assorted insects, among other things.

"Chemistry performs miracles down on the farm," the copy says. "... The farmer has tripled his use of fertilizer since 1940, and uses five times the quantity of pesticides ..."

Is this, then, some friendly advice to the farmer on where to go for his fertilizer and bug-killer? No, it is just a way of saying that the next time the farmer, or anybody else, has a financial problem it will pay him to consult one of the big New York banks.

And that's the way it goes. Customers nowadays look down strange and wonderful vistas on their way to the dotted line.

If they buy the product (when they find out what it is) and don't like it ... why, the education and entertainment alone were worth the money.

Try and Stop Me —by Bennet Cerf

Al Capone, notes Irv Kupcinet, had a favorite florist who had a standing order to send an elaborate floral wreath to the family of every hoodlum the Capone mob rubbed out. It was a lucrative business, and the florist showed his appreciation by getting the wreath over while the body was still warm. One day, in fact, he overreached himself. The wreath, with the victim's name tastefully worked out in white carnations, arrived before the police had even identified the body!

A Mr. Floogle in South Bend had a brand-new washing machine that went on the Fritz. Mr. Floogle had bent over to probe deep into the mechanism of the machine when Mrs. Floogle entered and turned on the switch. There was a whirr, and Mr. Floogle's legs shot up into the air. Mrs. Floogle watched him thrashing wildly about and observed happily, "Fine, Sam! You've got it working again!"

Robert S. Allen Reports

Kefauver, Harriman Will Try To Slow Down Adlai

Washington, January 27 — A lot more than fund-raising is behind that big February 2 dinner of the New York State Democratic Committee.

Another important unannounced purpose is reaching a "working arrangement" between Senator Estes Kefauver and Governor Averell Harriman to front-running drive for the presidential nomination.

At present, this backstage plan does not contemplate a Kefauver-Harriman coalition or alliance, as such. The Tennesseean and New Yorker will continue their separate campaigns as they are now doing. What their managers are considering is a "joint strategy" designed to head-off their leading rival from clinching the prize before the August convention.

As explained by State Secretary Carmine De Sapio, who is masterminding Harriman's candidacy, in private talks with Speaker Sam Rayburn and other congressional chiefs, "Our aim is to keep Stevenson from winning on the first or second ballot. We figure the more ballots, the less his chances."

Senate Leader Lyndon Johnson, Tex., and House Floor Leader John McCormack, Mass., were among those with whom De Sapio conferred.

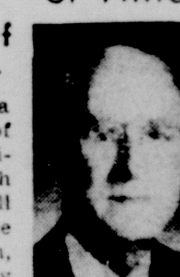

He told them the principal speaker will be former President Truman, Harriman and Kefauver are also on the program, for short talks. But Stevenson will not be on hand. He was invited, but the date conflicts with previous commitments in Oregon and California. The Illinoisan suggested several alternatives, but they were turned down by De Sapio and State Chairman Michael Pendergast.

Stevenson's partisans are irately charging February 2 was selected expressly to exclude him, because the opposition knew he couldn't be in New York that day.

Both Kefauver and Stevenson are slated to address a statewide Democratic meeting in Fresno, Calif., on February 4. This will be their opening encounter in the state's June 5 primary, which could decide their fate. Kefauver will fly there after the New York affair.

Note: Truman is planning a "thunderous" speech, as he is describing it to friends. He will castigate the Administration on foreign issues. Two days later, in Boston, he will turn his guns on the Administration's handling of domestic affairs. The former President is telling friends that Mrs. Truman and his doctor are opposed to his exerting himself so strenuously, but he feels, "I've just got to do it. Conditions are too critical to keep silent at this time."

10 Years Ago

O. E. S. — An afternoon meeting of Past Masters of Monroe Chapter 99, Eastern Star, closed with a candlelight supper at the home of Mrs. Arthur L. Holmes, E. S.

Anniversary — Mr. and Mrs. Bernice Bond celebrated 32nd anniversary of their marriage on the 24th.

Furlough — Harry Shie's, carpenter's mate, has arrived from the Philippines after 18 months of foreign service with destroyer-escort "Day", to spend furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Ray Shields, E. S.

Birthday — Miss Barbara Widmer, a senior at S. H. S., was 18 on Sunday and received many gifts. She is a talented soprano singer.

20 Years Ago

Cold — Weekend fires, coasting accidents and freezing temperatures increased to 27 the toll of lives taken in Penna.

SS Class — The Young People's Bible Class of Wesley Chapel met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Lee, Arlington Heights. After regular business they celebrated the birthday of Harold Lee, son of the hosts.

Brownies — Miss Mary Louise Buck, captain of local Brownies, announced a sleigh ride on the hill by Municipal House. All are to bring sleds.

Birthday — Ronald Walters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace G. Walters, E. S., was host to a number of friends in celebration of his 5th birthday on the 25th.

Nicked — Stevenson has already sustained one setback in a key state—according to De Sapio. It occurred in Massachusetts.

As related by the Tammany leader during his unpublicized Washington pow-wowing, an attempt by Senator John Kennedy and former Governor Paul Devers to grab off the Massachusetts delegation for Stevenson was blocked.

Instead, they got not more than 18 of the 32 delegates. The rest are split among Kefauver, Harriman, Senator Stuart Symington, Mo., and others.

House Leader McCormack and State Chairman William Burke are credited with administering this rebuff. De Sapio also claims that even some of the pro-Stevenson delegates will drop him if he is defeated by Kefauver in the Florida or California primaries.

Note: Some Stevenson supporters are not happy over Senator Kennedy's insistence on his younger brother, Robert being made a delegate. A one-time McCarthy partisan, young Kennedy has pronounced political yearnings; is considering running for Attorney General and, possibly, Governor.

Politics — Two leading Ambassadors are eyeing Connecticut's senatorial race, in which Republican Prescott Bush is up for re-election. Despite intimations to the contrary, Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, Ambassador to Italy, is very much interested in challenging Bush, and so is former Governor John Davis Lodge, Ambassador to Spain. Partisans of Mrs. Luce are bluntly asserting she would make a "much stronger" candidate than Bush, who blocked her senatorial ambitions in 1952, when she sought to succeed the late Senator E. A. Tamm.

Politics — Senate Democratic leaders are pleading with Senator Alan Bible, Nev., to withdraw his announcement that he won't seek reelection. Already three aspirants have announced for the Democratic nomination and others may do so. Party chiefs fear this will mean a bruising primary battle, which will play into Republican hands. The latter are counting on Representative Clifford Young (R., Nev.) to get Bible's seat. ... Senator Kefauver and White House assistant Harold Stassen are tangling in a debate in Philadelphia on February 26. Other Kefauver campaigning dates are in Indianapolis, January 28, and Minneapolis, February 20. ... Mrs. Davis Elkins, wife of the former West Virginia Senator, whose father and grandfather were senators, will again try for the Republican nomination against Representative Harley Staggers (D., W. Va.). She ran in 1954, but was defeated.

Air Travel Shows Need Of Airport

—by H. G. Heller

Here's just one airline's report on air travel—and they're all running about the same pace—to indicate how sorely Monroe County needs an airport and united municipal and community action to provide adequate air base facilities here.

Pan American World Airways carried a record 208,000 passengers across the Atlantic in 1955. Willis G. Lipscomb, Vice President Traffic and Sales, announced recently.

"Not only does this number represent an all-time industry high for any single air carrier," Mr. Lipscomb said, "it means that one out of every three persons who flew between the United States and Europe last year traveled on Pan American."

Looking ahead to the coming peak summer season, Mr. Lipscomb said that the airline would operate 160 weekly flights between the United States and Europe. The increased schedules will be made possible by the addition of the new, long-range Douglas built DC-7Cs, scheduled for delivery beginning this June.

The overall increase in trans-Atlantic traffic for the airline last year was 36 per cent. The sharpest gains were registered in tourist service which shot up from 83,478 passengers in 1954 to 122,909 in 1955, a 47 per cent gain. First-class passengers increased by 18 per cent, from 54,461 to 64,363.

Charter business continued to show gains. Mr. Lipscomb noted. The airline carried 18,000 charter passengers in 1955 compared with the 1954 total of 12,419.

As of the year's end, Pan American had performed 53,356 trans-Atlantic crossings since the service began in 1939, more than any other airline.

County-Wide Mothers' March To Take Place Next Tuesday

Funds Sought To Finish Polio Battle

"THE FIGHT to conquer polio is partly won. But it would be fatal to assume that there is no need to go on fighting. Money to help polio patients and to perfect the Salk vaccine is badly needed today."

With that statement, the Business and Professional Women's Club last night launched the preliminary phase of its "Mothers' March On Polio."

The March takes place next Tuesday night, Jan. 31 throughout Monroe County. It will be the traditional door-to-door plea for funds. Every house in Monroe County will be given a chance to help the battle against infantile paralysis, according to Joyce Rutt, club chairman for the Mothers' March.

"It is perfectly fitting, this year as in all the years in the past that the burden of soliciting funds to fight polio should fall upon the women of the area," the club said. "Certainly no one better realizes the tragedy of polio than the mother of a child whose life has been twisted by this disease. To all mothers, therefore, the problem of polio is a pressing and important one. This includes those who work for the drive as well as those who contribute to it in any way, financially or otherwise."

Captains Appointed

For Tuesday night's Mothers' March, captains have been named in all the major regions of the county. According to the march chairman, the following will serve as captains:

Stroudsburg, Mrs. Lulu Harvey; East Stroudsburg, Rev. Harold C. Eaton; Delaware Water Gap, Miss Nellie Burd; Mount Pocono, Ellen Regan; West End Area, Mrs. Harry Weiss; Pocono Lake and Pocono Pines, Mrs. Elvora Keiper; Eldred Township, Mrs. Adan Bohner; Jackson Township, Mrs. J. A. Wallingford; Pocono Township, Mrs. Carol Riley; Paradise Township, Mrs. David Nelson; Coolbaugh Township, Miss Esther Foley; Pocono Summit, Mrs. Layton Kinsley; Anasimink, Mrs. Margaret Walter; Stroud Township, Mrs. Loring Cramer.

Assisting them in the March, the captains will have an army of hundreds of volunteer workers—nearly all of them women. These workers will make their rounds, from door to door, in every neighborhood in the county.

When the time comes to "report in," the collection boxes and envelopes will be taken to two principal locations. In East Stroudsburg the depository will be the East Stroudsburg National Bank. In Stroudsburg, the funds will be collected by BPWC workers at Stroudsburg Security Trust Co.

Frank Detrick Rites Conducted

FUNERAL rites for Frank Detrick, 76 of East Stroudsburg RD 1, were held at 2 p. m. yesterday in Lanterman funeral home.

Rev. David Newquist officiated. Interment was made in Stroudsburg Cemetery. Pallbearers were John Place, Fred Piper, Ray Mosier, Robert Taylor, Irvin Strunk and Franklin Hallett.

A PRE-WAR CAR, operated by Jack D. Harrison, 23, 40 Stofflet St., went out of control early yesterday morning on this curve near the intersection of N. Courland St. and Route 190 at Eagle Valley Corners. Police say Roland J. Hardy, 20, 39 Stofflet St., an occupant in the car, apparently was hurled to his death after the vehicle crashed into a pole at the entrance to the Penn-Dell Dairy property. Harrison has been charged with involuntary manslaughter. Other photos on Page 1.

Socialist Guy Mollet Agrees To Try Setting Up Cabinet

By Carl Hartman

PARIS, Jan. 26 (P)—Socialist Guy Mollet agreed today to try to become the first premier of France under the National Assembly elected Jan. 2.

If the Assembly approves him he will be the first Socialist to head the French government in more than eight years.

Mollet, a worried little man of 50 who used to teach high school English, was closeted with President Rene Coty for 90 minutes, then emerged and told reporters:

"The President did me the honor of asking me to form a Cabinet. I did not want to make him wait, and gave him my consent at once."

Expected Call

Mollet has been expecting the call for two weeks and has already done a good deal of the preliminary work. He has announced he will form a "minority Cabinet" from the ranks of the "Republican Front." His main ally in this grouping is former Premier Pierre Mendes-France, who is expected to get an important post. Besides the Radical party of Mendes-France, two minor groups will also be represented.

There were reports of dissension within the alliance tonight. Mendes-France was said to be insisting on the job of foreign minister, while Mollet wants him to take charge of economic affairs instead.

Trip To Algeria

Mollet has said that the next premier should make a short trip to Algeria in an effort to end the 15-month-old guerrilla revolt against French rule. He has promised to hold free elections there and open talks with the victors on a new relationship with France.

He will probably go before the 596-man Assembly Tuesday to present his Cabinet and make a policy statement. He can count on the 95 votes of his own Socialist party and about half as many from the rest of his alliance. He is also expected to get the backing of the 51 Communists, who hope that they will one day reap their reward in the form of Cabinet posts. If approved, Mollet will be the 15th premier and his Cabinet the 22nd for France since the liberation in 1944.

In addition to making a start on the Algerian problem he wants to begin negotiations for a new relationship with Morocco, push through a new election law and change the constitution to make French governments more stable. He would also like to get an increase in old age pensions.

Fire School Unit Meets Tonight

THERE WILL be a meeting of the Fire School Committee at the Tannersville firehouse at 7:30 p. m. today. Any member of the Monroe County Firemen's Association is welcome to attend.

Nigerians Prepare To Greet Queen

By Alvin Kleinkopf

LAGOS, Nigeria Jan. 26 (P)—A sign in the new and splendid Mainland hotel here says: "The management requests that for the evening, gentlemen wear ties and long trousers of appropriate African attire."

Shirts, sandals, and open necks won't do—but jackets may still be skipped.

This is one manifestation of the manner in which Nigerians are polishing their manners and giving the country a thorough scrubbing for the ceremonial three-week visit of Britain's Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh starting Saturday morning.

Although Nigeria has been a British colony for almost a century, Elizabeth will be the first British sovereign to visit this warm and lush land, which is bigger than any country in Europe except Russia and which has a population of at least 32 million.

Few Have Seen Queen

No one here, except a few statesmen who have traveled to distant London, has ever seen the Queen. And it is a safe presumption that the Queen herself has never seen quite such a country.

Up to a very few years ago, cases of cannibalism troubled the police, and out in the remote bush country it is possible that they could still occur. As little as 75 years ago, life was a primitive struggle among hostile tribes, and geographers were not sure of the course of the mighty River Niger.

Not so long ago Nigeria's chief export was human slaves. Today it is an exciting challenging land, in swift bounds covering ground which other countries needed centuries to traverse.

"The Queen will see mud huts and shanties mingled among modern buildings of striking grace and beauty."

Lagos has a population of about 300,000, but down the bush trails, roads and railways, other thousands are converging on it.

Most Nigerians are confident that in the comparatively near future they will be an independent nation. But it is understood on all sides that this is not the Queen's business, so no one will talk politics with her.

Architects Recommended To School

THE BUILDING committee of the East Stroudsburg Area Joint School Board has agreed to recommend retaining of an Allentown architectural firm.

Members of the committee will recommend at the joint board's February meeting, Tuesday night, that Everett Associates, Allentown, be retained to draw up plans for a new secondary school building.

Committee members reached their decision after hearing presentations from three firms in this region.

Everett Associates has earned a wide reputation during recent years for its construction of new schools throughout the Northeastern Pennsylvania and Philadelphia-Bucks County regions.

Expansion Planned

Besides construction of the new high school building, the joint board also expects to include additions and expansions to some existing school building facilities with the jointure in its building program.

Retaining of the architect to undertake plans for such a program depends upon action by the joint board, however. The building committee was asked to investigate and hear all qualifications from firms invited to present their credentials.

Radio Play To Tell Story Of Polio-Stricken Family

AN ORIGINAL RADIO play about a family stricken by polio will be presented by Girl Scouts over Station WVFO Saturday morning at 10:45.

Author of the play is Mrs. Harry Heller. Mrs. Heller is also directing and acting in it.

Girls taking part in the production will be Judy Jordan, Nancy Jo Flory, Barbara Blaker and Brenda Torzillo, all members of Girl Scout Troop 12. The girls are in the intermediate group.

Their leader, Mrs. J. L. Cohen, will also participate in the play. She will have the role of a Girl Scout leader. John Munier, an announcer at the station, will take the part of a doctor in the play.

Plot of Story

Mrs. Heller has titled her play, "What's the Difference." It is described as the story of a new family moving into a neighborhood. The young girl in the family is withdrawn and does not reach out to the other girls; instead spends most of her time talking with a young boy.

Girls in a Scout troop talk over whether she should be asked to join with them. One girl objects, saying that the new girl is "different" and "doesn't belong." This girl is sent to visit the family.

At the home she finds the mother confined to a wheelchair. She is a polio victim. The young boy turns out to be the son of the doctor who has been treating her.

Listeners Invited

According to those associated with the production the play is a vivid reconstruction of the conflict in attitudes within a community among persons who should know more about polio.

All persons in the area are urged to listen to the show. Mrs. Mildred Munson, Girl Scout adviser and coordinator said last night. It is another indication, Mrs. Munson said, that Girl Scouts take their duties within the community seriously and do not confine their activities to Scouting alone.

Steels Drop On Record High Earnings

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (AP)—Weakness in steels was an outstanding factor in the decline in today's stock market.

Steels turned down after several days of strength despite a number of reports of record high earnings and generous dividend declarations.

The market as a whole was down around 2 points at the outside with gains seldom passing a point. Almost all major divisions were lower with some mixed and a few steady at best.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down $1.30 at $173.40. On Tuesday and Wednesday the average gained $3.10. The industrial component was off $2.50, rails were down 80 cents, and utilities remained unchanged.

The list was composed of 1,168 individual issues of which 301 advanced and 616 declined with 13 new highs and 9 new lows for the year. Volume amounted to 1,840,000 shares as compared with 1,950,000 shares traded yesterday, lowest in nearly three months.

The American Stock Exchange was slightly lower on light volume of 660,000 shares as compared with 750,000 shares traded yesterday. Corporate bonds were higher.

He's Looking for a Mountain!

You see, he knows what he has down under that beautiful hood—a great, powerful V-8 engine that's pulsing with life—and he's simply itching to give it the word!

But he is a sane and sensible driver, who stays within the regulations and observes the laws of common sense—and he knows he can't unleash that engine on a normal stretch of highway.

So he's looking for a big, long, steep hill. Maybe he can get the throttle down there for a short thrust—just to find out what it's like!

Well, maybe so—but even on a mountain, he won't use full throttle for long.

For this car is powered far beyond all normal requirements.

Why, you might ask, is this so?

Well, in the judgment of Cadillac engineers, it's done for many reasons.

First of these is safety. A great reserve of power for the quick escape from an emergency is of the essence of highway safety. There is simply no substitute for it.

Then there's economy. A big, powerful engine that loafs at normal speeds permits the use of an axle ratio that makes for gasoline economy.

There is long life—for the absence of strain adds to the life of any mechanism.

And finally, there is the great riding and driving luxury that comes with extra power . . . the whisper-silent engine, the instant response to the throttle, the sense of safety and security.

Of course, luxuriant power is but one of the basic superiorities in the 1956 Cadillac. For here is the finest of all Cadillacs—unmistakably, the "car of cars."

Why not come in soon and see for yourself? We will be most happy to supervise a personal demonstration on the highway.

The car is waiting for you—and any time you find the time would be a good time for a date!

Lions Club Reviews Activities

TANNERSVILLE—Visiting dignitaries and neighboring clubs paid tribute to the Tannersville Lions Club on their first anniversary and charter night which they combined with a ladies night celebration this week at the Tannersville Inn.

Floyd DeHaven, president of the club, gave a brief summary of their activities during the first year including the purchase of glasses for children of Pocono Township, and financial help for three members who had suffered severe flood damage.

Cabinet secretary-treasurer, Walter R. Hicks, who helped to organize the Tannersville group as cabinet president last year; Deputy District Governor, Richard O. Evans of the Richmond Lions; and Bernie Hawk, president of the West End Lions Club and John Wernett, secretary, who attended with all past presidents of the West End Lions Club brought greetings and compliments to the Tannersville club.

Unangst Speaks

District Governor Addison F. Unangst, of Hellertown, was the main speaker on the theme, "I Am My Brother's Keeper." Zone Chairman E. E. Frankenstein, of the Tobyhanna Lions Club also spoke.

Rev. William E. Foose gave the invocation and Rev. Adan Bohner the benediction.

All the women were presented with gifts from the Tannersville Lions Club. A Chinese auction was held with bidding spirited on a potted fruit tree and an electric frying pan.

The entertainer was Arnold Moyer, of Allentown, who entertained with skits and music.

There were 80 present for the turkey dinner meeting, including 20 members from the West End Lions and their ladies. Haviland Heller took pictures of the party. The program committee included Joseph Williams, Kenneth Starnes and James Wallingford.

The next meeting of the club will be held Feb. 14 at 7 at the firehouse.

The incredible, but true story of WYATT EARP greatest of all the gunfighters.

THIS IS THE charred house in Milford, Conn., in which New York diamond merchant Julian Junsch and four other members of his family were burned to death. The colonial home is only a block from a fire station. The lone survivor was Junsch's elder son, Richard, 12, who leaped from his second-floor room. The dead were identified as Mr. and Mrs. Julian Junsch; Peter Junsch, 6, and Mrs. Junsch's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Georges. Junsch retired in 1945 as a lieutenant colonel in the Dutch East Indies army.

Two Events Scheduled At Elks Home

ARTHUR KUTZMAN, chairman of the entertainment committee of East Stroudsburg lodge of Elks, urged a large attendance at the dance to be held at the home tomorrow night. Bill Fisher's orchestra will furnish music for dancing.

The dance is for members, their ladies and friends. It will get underway at 10 p.m. and extend until 2 a.m. Special features are also on the program. There is no admission fee and reservations are not necessary.

Indications are for a large turnout for the district deputy's clinic to be held at the East Stroudsburg lodge home Sunday at 2 p.m. Deputy John R. Hauser will be in charge.

The clinic is for lodge exalted rulers, leading knights and secretaries. Many matters of interest to the local units are discussed. Barney Wentz, of Ashland, past state association president, and Robert Adam, of Sayre, past district deputy grand exalted ruler, are expected to be present.

The oldest Seventh Day Baptist Church in America still stands in Newport, R. I. Built in 1729 it is now a part of the Newport Historical Society.

Church, Charity Management Inefficient, Experts Say; Catholic Church Exception

By George W. Cornell

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (AP)—As measured by efficiency experts, nonprofit service organizations today aren't usually run as skillfully as American business firms.

The analysts find there's generally more wasted motion, cumbersome procedures and top-heavy administrative costs in charitable agencies, colleges and churches than in the streamlined, competitive business world.

But the American Institute of Management, one of the major research firms in this field, came up this week with a surprising finding, namely:

That the Roman Catholic Church is more efficient than any nonprofit organization ever studied, and also more efficient than 99 out of 100 American private corporations.

All Denominations

The study, begun in 1948, is the second of a series the institute is making with plans to cover eventually all major denominations, Catholic, Jewish and Protestant.

"It's a long-range project," a spokesman said. "Completing work on one denomination a year is the best we can hope to do."

Right now, he said, preliminary studies are being made concerning phases of the nine-million-member Methodist Church, the country's largest Protestant body. Prior to the Roman Catholic report, still in the process of being finished before its full publication next fall, the institute had covered only one other denomination, the American Baptist Convention.

That study, made for a fee at the denomination's request and issued a year ago, did not include over-all efficiency rating, since the denomination was in the process of overhauling administrative machinery.

Preferred To Wait
"They were deficient in some categories and preferred to wait," an institute spokesman said.

As for the Roman Catholic study, church operations were tested in 10 broad categories, and came out with an over-all rating of 88 out of a possible 100 points. (75 is excellent.)

Comparatively, only about 40 of 1,000 private corporations analyzed rate that high or better. Of about 1,000 nonprofit organizations studied, none had such a high rating.

A total of 408 of the business firms—about 10 per cent—rate the minimum 75 points for excellence or better. A spokesman said the percentage of nonprofit groups scoring this minimum is far below that for businesses, although exact figures were unavailable.

Need More Efficiency
"These (nonprofit) groups ought to be a lot more efficient," the spokesman said. "From an economic standpoint, they could get a whole lot more done for less money."

"Compared to private firms, their administrative costs usually are too high."

The Catholic report, while citing the church for highly effective methods in many respects, also contains numerous criticisms. Editors of the Catholic Digest, a monthly periodical, said of the report: "Extremely interesting but incomplete."

Cannot Be Audited
"Grace supposes nature and the human nature through which divine grace operates is adequately audited and analyzed. However, divine grace cannot be subjected to any audit or analysis."

One of the report's sharpest criticisms is directed at the church's failure to make public any statement of its finances, either generally or in local dioceses.

"At least in those countries in which it has the benefit of tax exemption the church should reveal its finances as a public policy," the report said. "To do less invites justified criticism — the church is just too important to be secretive."

Included in the report is an estimate that the church in the United States has an annual (for 1954) expenditure of 420 million dollars, with this breakdown:

Salaries, 22 per cent; repairs and improvements, 11 per cent; debt payment, 9 per cent; other expenses and interest, 31 per cent; local charity, 6 per cent; missions, 2 per cent; headquarters, 3 per cent; other purposes, 16 per cent.

$5 Billion Budget

Worldwide, the church's annual budget was given as five billion dollars.

The report said that the Holy See's capital "has so long been largely invested in Italy," indicating that church officials either aren't aware of better investment opportunities elsewhere, or it is an advantage to a "certain few" to control enterprise nearer home.

Of church spending, however, the report said, "there is no overpayment of personnel and no extravagance," and no other organization does so much with so little.

Less Extravagance

"There is less extravagance and more painstaking work on an efficient basis at the Holy See than one would believe possible . . ."

the report said. The institute, headed by a former Texan, Jackson Martindell, has a staff of 50 researchers— (Please Turn to Page 14)

Tough jobs demand a Universal 'Jeep'

Traction. 4-wheel drive gives the extra traction for traveling up steep grades or broken ground. The 'Jeep' is built to stand up and take it in tough usage.

Mobile power. With power take-off, the Universal 'Jeep' provides mobile power for operating welders, compressors, generators and many other kinds of specialized equipment.

Hydraulic lift. With hydraulic lift, the 4-wheel drive 'Jeep' operates graders, scrapers, post hole diggers and most 3-point hitch implements.

Now a 'Jeep' with longer wheelbase—the new model CJ-6. Carries larger, bulkier loads; has all the features that made the 'Jeep' famous.

A 4-Wheel-Drive Universal 'Jeep' takes you to the job, wherever it is—on the road or off! This rugged performer carries men and equipment over the highway in conventional 2-wheel drive. Then, when work calls for travel off the road—through mud, sand or snow, up hill or down—you shift a single lever for the extra traction of 4-wheel drive. With power take-off, or hydraulic lift, the Universal 'Jeep' does an almost endless variety of jobs. To find out what it can do for you, ask for a demonstration.

How Do You Score On Your Motor Manners?

Do you always—

- 1 Give correct arm signals for lane changes, turns and stops?
- 2 Obey speed limits?
- 3 Stop completely at stop signs?
- 4 Drive in and turn from the proper lane?
- 5 Observe passing regulations and no-passing zones?
- 6 Yield right-of-way to pedestrians and also observe mid-block crosswalks?
- 7 Stop when approaching standing school buses until safe to proceed?
- 8 Exercise special caution at railway-grade crossings?
- 9 Refuse to drive after drinking?
- 10 Drive defensively, anticipating what drivers and pedestrians may do?

If your score adds up to good motor manners, congratulations! Most Pennsylvanians are good drivers and good drivers are good citizens.

Pearsall Sells Auto Agency And Garage To Lester Abeloff

LEON G. PEARSALL, a pioneer in the automotive field in Monroe County, has sold his interest in the Stroudsburg Garage, Pontiac and GMC dealers, to Lester G. Abeloff, there-dedicated to putting America on wheels.

Pearsall first established himself as an Oldsmobile dealer in 1920 on Main St. on the present location of the Andrews building. In 1924 the Oakland automobile was added to the line and the Stroudsburg Garage promoted both cars. Shortly after a new dealership for Oldsmobile was established in Stroudsburg, General Motors introduced Pontiac and Mr. Pearsall was granted a Pontiac franchise. In 1931 the present Stroudsburg Garage was built by Pearsall and has been operated by him continuously since that time.

Plans Indefinite

Mr. and Mrs. Pearsall, who reside at White Heron Lake, near Marshall's Creek, contemplate a vacation after which plans for the future will be considered.

Abeloff, the new owner, long a familiar figure in the local automotive scene was graduated from East Stroudsburg Teachers College in 1939 and later served as substitute teacher of mathematics at Blair Academy. He joined the aviation cadet program in 1941 and became a captain as a navigator in heavy bombardment in 1953 during which time he flew 58 combat missions. Mr. Abeloff now holds the rank of major and commands the 1st Squadron, 10th Cavalry, 2nd Air Force Reserve. He and his wife, Clementine, and son, Daniel reside at 245 Washington St., East Stroudsburg.

From 1946 to 1950, "Les," as he is best known, was affiliated with his brothers Maynard and Murray Abeloff as dealers for Willys Jeep and pleasure cars and Mack trucks as well as the Abeloff Auto Exchange. Lester Abeloff became the owner of the Nash Garage, Second Street, Stroudsburg, in February 1950, acquiring it from Walter Heckman; and continued as a Nash dealer until forced to discontinue as a result of the flood of August 1955.

Mr. Abeloff has announced that all personnel of the Stroudsburg Garage will become a part of the new venture.

Henry L. Nietsch, who has been 1930, has been named manager in 1930, has been named manager in charge of sales and service. Mr. Nietsch, his wife Lillian and daughter Susan are residents of Dreher Ave., Stroudsburg.

SAMUEL J. COCO, 405 Clermont Ave., Stroudsburg, led all agents of the Prudential Insurance Company's Easton district in sales during 1955, it was announced yesterday.

E. P. Canivan, head of the district which includes a branch in Stroudsburg, said Mr. Coco's achievement was based on sales of all types of company coverages. He is a member of the Stroudsburg staff.

Mr. Coco has been affiliated with the Stroudsburg office since 1955. THE ESSO Standard Oil Co. recently honored a group of men at a safety meeting held at Johnnie's Pocono Summit Inn for a total of 148 years of safety performance.

Fourteen men were given pin awards for safety performances ranging from two to 20 years.

Among the local men who received honors were Fred W. Kegley who is now in charge of service station development and Walter Hinkle general salesman. Mr. Kegley received a 15-year safety pin three years ago. Mr. Hinkle was presented with a 15.

The safety meeting covered the northeastern Pennsylvania district which has headquarters in Wilkes-Barre.

ANDREW GONDELL, operator of the Easo Station in Delaware Water Gap, has taken the agency for Homgas Service with headquarters in East Stroudsburg.

Mr. Gondell has arranged for fast delivery service on bottled gas with no charge for changeovers. Under the Gondell arrangements he will service the Homgas through both the East Stroudsburg and Delaware Water Gap locations.

MR. AND MRS. Kermit Feller were supper guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Flick and family, on Sunday evening. Other callers were Mr. and Mrs. Keith Williver and daughter Joan and sons, Ronald and Terry, of Phillipsburg, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. William Flick and daughter, Joann, of Saylorsburg.

Larry Flick spent Saturday night with brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Feller, of Sciota.

Mr. and Mrs. William Flick and daughter Joann, of Saylorsburg, and Mrs. Bernard Flick and son Larry, of Sciota, motored to Phillipsburg, N. J., and called on Mr. and Mrs. Keith Williver and family on Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bittenbender and son, Floyd, of Bossardsville, called on the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Van Buskirk, Sunday night in Sciota.

School Raises Lunch Prices To Meet Loss

NEWFOUNDLAND — Effective Feb. 1, the price of lunch served by the school lunch program at the Greene-Dreher-Sterling school will be increased to 25 cents, a five-cent increase, Leland G. Cramer, supervising principal, has announced.

In a letter notifying parents of the change, Cramer reported a $600 deficit for the first three months of operation this year. He cited the following as among the reasons for the loss:

One — State aid has decreased. The former subsidy of seven cents per meal has been cut to six cents.

Two — Assistance through the Federal Surplus Foods Program has decreased. Although foods such as butter, beans, rice, shortening, fruits, peanut butter and cheese are still being received, meat is no longer available. Considerable expense is incurred in the purchase of the latter.

Equipment Replaced

Three — The replacement of food damaged equipment resulted in increased costs.

"These losses, if not recovered, are the responsibility of the school district," Cramer said. "After sustaining excessive expenditures because of food damage, the district can ill afford this $200 per month deficit," he added.

The increase in price has been given the approval of the Department of Public Instruction and the Greene-Dreher-Sterling Joint Board, the principal said.

Provision has been made to reduce the price to its former level should increased aid be forthcoming and all losses recovered, Cramer said.

Cheaper By Dozen

CAIRO, Jan. 26 (AP)—TWA says this story is true but refuses to name the people involved: A wealthy Moslem applied under the air line's off-season family fares plan for a transatlantic hop at 40 per cent below regular prices. After a doubletake at the family, TWA agreed on the package deal: The husband, four wives and 11 children.

Two Staff Members Promoted

TWO PROMOTIONS to the Skytop Lodge staff were announced yesterday by William W. Malleon Jr., vice president and general manager.

Donald M. Biles has been appointed resident manager, succeeding Miss Virginia L. Baker, and William D. Rogers Jr., has been advanced to assistant manager.

Biles, a graduate of the Cornell School of Hotel Administration, 1952, came to Skytop in June 1952 as assistant front office manager, and was promoted to assistant manager in 1953.

Rogers—also Cornell, 1952—joined the Skytop staff in September, 1954, in the capacity of guest manager. He was formerly associated with The Cloisters, Sea Island, Ga., from 1952 until coming to Skytop.

The appointment became effective Jan. 1. Miss Baker resigned Dec. 21 and is now on a world cruise.

Nicaragua Wants Lottery-Union

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador, Jan. 26 (AP)—Reports reaching here say Nicaragua is pushing a proposal for an international lottery in Central America. Italians Give Silver Plaque To Musmanno

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 26 (AP)—State Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno tonight received a silver plaque at ceremonies honoring him as the "most outstanding American of Italian lineage" in the nation.

The award was presented by the Philadelphia branch of the Unione Abruzzese, a national fraternal organization whose membership trace their forebears to one of four provinces of the Abruzzi region northeast of Rome.

Musmanno was cited for his "combined achievements in the fields of law, scholarship, literature, drama, statesmanship and military service."

The plaque was presented by Adrian Bonnelly of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia. At a banquet honoring the 58-

Bulganin Letter Seems More Doubletalk To Divide Allies

By J. M. Roberts
Associated Press News Analyst
No matter what the details of the Bulganin letter to President Eisenhower may be, it will have to be read against the background of the Prague conference which opens today and of Russian activities in the Middle East.

Bulganin is reported to be trying to revive the Russian version of a European security pact which was turned down at Geneva by the Western foreign ministers, while at the same time ignoring President Eisenhower's mutual inspection suggestion.

A security pact is also expected to be one of the chief topics at Prague, where representatives of the Communist bloc will be attempting to further the political aims of the military organization formed at Warsaw last year.

German Unity
Bulganin is reported to be suggesting that there is still room for negotiations over German reunification, despite the Geneva deadlock. The formation of an East German army and its reception into the Warsaw group is another topic at Prague.

Red China, which will have an "observer" at Prague as it had at Warsaw, has been conducting a new propaganda campaign against the United States in connection with the ambassadorial talks at Geneva, despite an original agreement to keep the discussions secret.

More Sweetness and Light
A new Bulganin-Khrushchev campaign of sweetness and light thus takes on the aspects of a smoke screen, designed partly to obscure the Eisenhower-Eden conference in Washington next week, and partly to cover Russia's own activities.

Khrushchev's statement that he believes in the peaceful good faith of the leaders of the Western Big Three is in direct contrast to his nasty references during his and Bulganin's recent Asiatic tour. Sometimes these fellows, by the contrast of their statements at different places and different times, almost seem not to realize that there are communications to and from all parts of the world, and that they cannot speak to one part alone.

Hope to Split West
The Bulganin letter also is an effort to get President Eisenhower to reply to a previous one, delivered shortly after the President's heart attack in September, in which the Russian Premier sought to evade the "blue sky" inspection plan and again resume discussion of the Russian proposals which had been so unanimously

Smaller Potato Output Advised

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson has recommended that growers of the summer and late crops of potatoes reduce their plantings this year. He said an average cut of eight per cent below last year is needed to prevent overproduction. A big crop last year was followed by depressed prices and diversrejected at Geneva. These efforts to deal directly with the United States, while extolling Eisenhower's peace efforts, look very much like a Russian return to the intermittent but long-term effort to split the West.

Miss Adams Engaged To J. L. Kuhn Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. John Adams, Jr. of 300 Pine Avenue, Stroudsburg announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary-Louise Adams, to John L. Kuhn, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Kuhn of 1 Elm Street, Mount Pocono.

Miss Adams was a graduate of Stroudsburg High School and is presently employed at the First Sub. National Bank. Mr. Kuhn was a graduate of Baltimore City College and is presently employed by the J. C. Penney Co.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Birthday Tea For Mrs. Hunt On 86th Birthday

A birthday tea was given yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Mary Hunt by Mrs. Vernon Imbt at her home on Dreher Ave. The guests included members of Mrs. Hunt's Sunday School class at the Zion Reformed Church, the Mizpah Class.

About 14 members of the class paid tribute to Mrs. Hunt who is 86 years old. A social time was climaxed by a tea party.

Callers in the afternoon were Rev. and Mrs. C. F. Spangenberg.

VFW Aux Makes $100 For Polio

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary to Post 2540 met at the VFW home on Monday night with Mrs. Hazel Eilenberger presiding.

It was reported that more than $100 had been realized from the sale of Blue Crotches to be used for the Polio Funds. Thank-you notes were read from members of the auxiliary who were flood victims and had received help from the auxiliary at Christmas time. Attendance awards were given to Ethel Raughley and Jennie Siptroth.

The next meeting will be held on February 13.

Vension Supper

The Smithfield Wildlife Association is serving a vension supper at the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church on Monday, January 30, at 6:15 p.m. Those planning to attend are asked to call 4566 before Saturday night.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

The family album used to be a source of embarrassment to the bare baby on the bear skin rug after he had grown up. I've discovered another source which might prove—well, maybe disconcerting. It's the cute sayings of youngsters, published 18 years ago.

I had thought of trying them out for blackmail, but maybe they'd have paid up and they're too amusing to waste.

For instance with Harry Mulins due to be married on February 4, I'd hate to waste this one, entitled "Club Life Begins For Harry." Then three and a half years old, Harry's mother explained to him that he was getting all dressed up because he was going to club with her. After they had arrived and the girls had started sewing, Harry piped up, "Mommy, when do we start the clubbing?"

Or how about Janice Williams, now doing post graduate study: She was four years old and came skipping and jumping down the stairs:

"Did you hear me, mother?"
Olive: "Yes, Janice."
Janice: "I sounded like daddy trying to be a young man again, didn't I, Mother?"

And I'm sure Jack Ifft will appreciate that when he was very young he looked up into the sky at dusk and called out, pointing to the new moon, "Oh mother, look at that fingernail up in the sky!"

No sir, I'm not going to reveal my source of information. There are too many good ones left.

Miss Mildred Mae Hamm, Lt. C. Brock Weiss Wed

Brodheads—In a formal and traditional wedding at the Zion Union Church, Brodheads, Miss Mildred Mae Hamm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hamm, of Brodheads, became the bride of Lt. Carl Brock Weiss, of Loring Air Force Base, Maine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weiss, of Brodheads.

They were married at 2 p. m. on January 21, by Rev. Adan Bohner in a double ring ceremony. The church was decorated with baskets of white snapdragons and ferns of rhododendron, laurel and holly. The altar was decorated with vases of snapdragons and lighted by candles.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional wedding gown with a long torso of Chantilly lace trimmed with sequins and pearls, and a full skirt of nylon tulle over white satin, worn over hoops. It was floor-length and ended in a slight train. A small cap of lace and pearls held her fingertip veil, and she carried a spray of gardenias.

Miss Diane Reed, of Bridgeport, West Virginia, was her maid of honor. She wore a gown of emerald green with a velvet bodice and a hoop skirt of matching nylon tulle over satin. Her hat was of braided bands of velvet and she carried a spray of yellow carnations.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Craig Mitchell, of Effort, sister of the bride, and Miss Barbara Kinkel, of Flemington, N. J., wore American Beauty red with velvet bodices and skirts of nylon tulle over satin. They wore matching velvet braided hats, and carried sprays of red rosebuds and white carnations.

Douglas Weiss, brother of the bridegroom, of Aberdeen, Md., was best man. Ushers were John B. Tretheway of Stroudsburg and Melvin Weiss Jr., of Brodheads.

The bride's mother wore a light blue lace dress with navy blue accessories and a corsage of white orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore a rose lace dress with navy blue accessories and a white orchid corsage. The bride-

Good Books Are Enlisted In Fight Against "Trash"

Publicizing good books rather than condemning the bad was the positive action taken at the first meeting of a local committee organized through the Stroudsburg Woman's Club to evaluate paper back publications on the newsstands.

The committee was appointed by Mrs. Claude W. Leister, club president, at the suggestion of school authorities. Mrs. Carroll R. All, youth conservation chairman of the club, and Mrs. T. I. Metzgar, health and community service chairman, are serving as co-chairmen of the group, which held its first meeting on January 20.

In no sense a censoring body, the committee was formed to look into the problem and study the possible bad effects of such publications. In discussing the problem, it was brought out that newsdealers have to take "trashy" literature in order to secure the better magazines. New York State, it was announced, has a comic book commission set up for comic book censorship.

In Monroe County, the reading habits of many of its young people are improving. Mrs. Elizabeth Kane, Monroe County Librarian, reported, and announced that many books of good quality have been purchased and are in demand by the children themselves. During the past year, she said, 30,000 children's books have been distributed at the library itself and from 72 to 73,000 books through the schools.

The committee pledged itself to work both individually and through the civic organizations to induce families to visit the library for good reading material. A display of better books around

Paradise To Observe Day Of Prayer

Paradise—The Paradise Women's Society of World Service will observe the annual World Day of Prayer in Kokee Chapel on Sunday night, February 5, at 7:45 p.m.

Members of the group will participate and Mrs. W. J. Friday, program chairman, will be the speaker. Theme of the service is, "We Are the Church." The public is invited.

The holidays for gift ideas was another suggestion for improving reading habits.

No specific complaints had been lodged with the committee, and many of the paper back books are of high quality. Any exceptions which the general public wishes to call to the attention of the committee will be studied, it was decided.

In addition to Mrs. All and Mrs. Metzgar the committee includes Miss Eloise Bryan, Mrs. Claude Leister, Mrs. Elizabeth Kane, Rev. William Foose and Mrs. George Metzgar Jr.

Presbyterian Aux. Holds Installation

Installation of new officers in the sanctuary of the East Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church marked the annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary held on Wednesday night.

The meeting followed a supper in the church parlors with Mrs. A. A. Holbrook saying grace, and Miss Amy Peters and Mrs. Simon Schoonover as hosts at the covered dish affair.

Mrs. Horace G. Walters, retiring president, opened the meeting, when reports were given by Mrs. Clifford Cramer, secretary; and Mrs. James Fisher, treasurer. Mrs. Walters announced the World Day of Prayer service in their church on Friday, February 17, at 2:30 p.m.

Reports of the auditing committee were read and found in order, and the budget for 1956 was presented. Mrs. William Crooks reported on the increase in membership and Mrs. Paul Dellaria had written a report on the sewing done for national missions and Mrs. Milo Singer for local and other sewing.

Reports were made of the activities of the four circles of the auxiliary by the chairmen: Mrs. Lawrence Musselman for the Dorcas Circle; Mrs. R. S. Flory, Esther Circle; Mrs. A. L. Burrows, Lydia Circle; and Mrs. Carlyle Huffman, Mary-Martha Circle.

Mrs. Nathan Meyer, vice president, presented the tentative outline of the program for the coming year.

Mrs. Walters was presented with a token of affection and esteem from the members of the Auxiliary. Mrs. Clifford Cramer made the presentation of a silver lemon fork, pickle fork and nut spoon. She introduced the new president, Mrs. Albert F. Sommers who announced the names of her new officers.

Adjourning to the sanctuary, Mrs. A. A. Holbrook conducted the installation. In addition to Mrs. Sommers, president, the officers include Mrs. Nathan G. Meyer, vice president; Mrs. Walter Schlough, recording secretary; Miss Bessie Gardner, corresponding secretary; Mrs. James Fisher, treasurer.

Secretaries include: Mrs. A. A. Holbrook, literature, Christian and mission education; Mrs. Clifford Cramer, stewardship and spiritual life; Mrs. Edwood Grant, social education and action; Mrs. Jesse R. S. Flory, national missions; Mrs. Charles B. Schaller, foreign missions; Mrs. Nelson Cramer, national missions and overseas hospital sewing; Mrs. Paul S. Dellaria, assistant; Mrs. Loring Cramer, membership; Miss Amy Peters, visiting committee; Mrs. Simon Schoonover, assistant; Mrs. Ashton L. Burrows, church aid; Mrs. William Crooks, budget and Mrs. Edwin B. Hughes, publicity.

The bride is a graduate of Chestnuthill High School, Cedar Crest College, Allentown, and the Philadelphia General Hospital, Philadelphia. She is a registered nurse.

Lt. Weiss was also graduated from Chestnuthill High School and two years of pre-medical studies at Pennsylvania State University where he was a member of Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity. He served a year in Korea with the Air Force, and was also on duty in England. At present he is stationed at the Loring Air Force Base, Maine.

Bushkill Fire Auxiliary Plans For Activities

Bushkill—Mrs. John K. Britton, president, presided at the meeting of the Bushkill Fire Company Auxiliary on Monday night. Officers Mrs. Walter Brandt, Mrs. Richard DePue and Mrs. Andrew Lewis were present.

New members Mrs. Charles M. Fisher and Mrs. Fred Ladice were welcomed.

The organization has been considering the purchase of tables. However it was decided to wait until more information was available. It was agreed to purchase one dozen folding chairs with the understanding that more will be purchased in the future.

A card party was planned for Thursday, February 23, with Mrs. E. B. Bartram, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Philip Angle, Mrs. Albert M. Smith Jr. and Mrs. Lawrence Butz.

A date was announced for a dinner and card party for Saturday, April 21. Plans will be culminated at a subsequent meeting.

The president announced that dues were payable in January and that all members would receive a notice regarding payment of dues. A membership drive was proposed and plans along these lines will be taken up at the February meeting.

The white elephant gift presented by Mrs. Walter Brandt was awarded to Mrs. Andrew Lewis. Mrs. Argus Miller and Mrs. R. G. Turn Jr. were hostesses.

Community Sings To Begin This Sunday Nt.

Effort—The first in a series of old-fashioned hymn sings, sponsored by the Young People's Bible Class and the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Effort Methodist Church will be held this Sunday night, January 29, at 7:30.

They have planned the service as a worship in song, when those attending may request their favorite hymns and join in the singing. At this first hymn sing, Mrs. Joseph Howorth, of Bethlehem, will be the guest speaker. Her topic will be "I Thirst."

The February hymn sing will be held February 28 with special music and Elwood Parry, a youth worker of Bethlehem, leading the singing and bringing the message.

Rev. LeRoy Bernard, pastor of the church, will be present at these community hymn sings whenever he is not holding services in one of the five churches of the circuit.

Stork Shower Is Given For Ethel Cossler

Ethel Cossler was honored at a surprise stork shower at her home on Spruce St. last Friday night given by Margaret Bixler and Etabelle Horgan.

A pink and blue basket with a large stork was surrounded by gift-wrapped packages. Games and contests were played with prizes for the winners. Movies were taken and refreshments of ice cream and a decorated cradle cake were served by the hostesses.

Those attending and bringing gifts were Ellen Regan, Pauline Keiper, Hazel Hartman, Lucy Rowe, Mary Fean, Anita Miller, Shirley Murray, Helen Bobbly, Edith Wilson, Peggy Van, Trudy Rosengrant, Mary Guida and Mary De Santo.

Those who sent gifts but were unable to attend were: Margaret Butz, Emma Dunbar, Gloria Metzgar, Margie Beck, Cora Wilson, Arvilla Bishig, Shirley Evans, Grace Depue, Helen Smith and Fern Frechatka.

New Organ At Bushkill Church Many Activities

Bushkill—The Dutch Reformed Church congregation, choir and Sunday School have been very active throughout January. A special offering was sent to the Italian Mission Church at Newburgh, N. Y. where the Rev. Moncado is pastor. The Missionary Society and the Ladies Aid Society also made a contribution.

The choir members enjoyed a skating party at Rainey's pond on Sunday. The group worked to clear the pond of snow before skating could begin. Twelve choir members, guests and choirmaster, Ralph G. Turn Jr. were present. A treat around a campfire climaxed the afternoon party.

The church has purchased a new Baldwin organ, this purchase was made possible through the generous donations of the people in the area. Contributions were received starting on Tuesday, January 17, and to date a very sizable sum had been received, with donations coming in daily.

The congregation has had the opportunity to hear the organ during the past two Sundays.

The clearing of the lot adjacent to the parsonage is in process and it is hoped that the area will be prepared for additional parking space.

A nursery is provided for those wishing to attend church services on Sunday morning at 11. Sunday School is from 10 a.m. to 10:55 a.m.

Miss Kushinski Is Bride Of Forrest J. Mervine Jr.

Miss Constance Kushinski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kushinski, of 1521 N. Fifth St., Stroudsburg, became the bride of Forrest J. Mervine Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest J. Mervine Sr., of West Main St., Stroudsburg, on Saturday, January 21, at 11 a. m. in St. Luke's Catholic Church, Stroudsburg.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Francis G. Barrett.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white crystalite, featuring a square neckline with lace inserts, long pointed sleeves and a full, walk-length skirt. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white daisy mums.

Miss Patricia Kushinski served as her sister's maid-of-honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Grace Riehm of Glenside, Pa., and Miss Helen Kushinski, of Stroudsburg, cousin of the bride. The three wore identical street-length dresses of peacock blue taffeta with matching veiled headbands and shoes, complimented by white gloves. The maid of honor carried a bouquet of yellow and white daisy mums and the bridesmaids of yellow daisy mums.

Donald J. Henzey, of Stroudsburg, served as best man. Ushers were Kirk Shaw, of Stroudsburg, and Edwin Smith, of Greencastle, Pa.

The bride's mother wore a dress of teal blue velvet and the bridegroom's mother a suit of navy blue. Each wore a corsage of white orchids.

Miss Marjory Hermanns was organist and played a short organ recital preceding the ceremony. The altar was decorated with white gladiolas, and the pews with white satin bows.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held for 100 guests at Gap View Inn where a buffet luncheon was served.

For her going-away costume, the bride wore a blue satin dress with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

After their wedding trip to Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Mervine will be at home at Fern Towers, South Munn Ave., East Orange, N. J.

They are both graduates of Stroudsburg High School. Mrs. Mervine was also graduated from East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and is at present an elementary teacher in the East Orange school system. Mr. Mervine will be graduated from Drew University in May.

Supper At Sand Hill

Bushkill—A covered dish supper will be held at the Sand Hill Methodist Church on Saturday night, January 28, at 6:30. The women are asked to bring a covered dish.

Social After Mass

Tannersville—The Altar and Rosary Society of Our Lady of Victory Roman Catholic Church at their meeting on Sunday, January 22 decided to serve doughnuts, milk and coffee after mass each Sunday.

Apparently our Rummage Riot is ringing the bell. Even tucked away in a second floor office, you know there are plenty of customers in the store when the amplifying system gives forth the announcement that "fall employees must remove their carts from the Parking Lot." And that's the announcement we heard just this minute... Don't know why it is, but Rummage Sales are always popular with women. I suppose it's the age-old yearning to get something for nothing that sets them digging through piles of yarn, or stacks of gloves, scarves, and socks. Those who are penny-wise can really save right now on some truly remarkable buys, but there are also some rather baffling markdowns too, if the truth be told. As one gentleman mused, "I wouldn't mind if Ethel would come home with a marked down nightgown or shirt, but she always returns from rummage sales with back scratchers, cancelled three cent stamps, and topnots minus handle and lid. When my wife shops, a thing doesn't have to DO anything—she'll buy it just for the color." I know what he means. After all, I'm a woman!... One sale item that has bothered me a bit is the embroidered place mat with one napkin in our Art Goods department. The price is 3.00 and it is a handwoven sample. "Now what good is ONE place mat and napkins," I worried. Finally I have an answer—it would be perfect for the tray, if you've an invalid or guest who rates service in bed. Aside from that—well, I wouldn't have any idea, would you?... A call from a pleasantly excited Ira Miller informs me that Guess What? The New York Public Library has just contacted the publisher of Pocono Magazine and requested all back and future issues of the publication for its Fifth Avenue branch. Never again can a well read New Yorker say, "Stroudsburg?—Never heard of it!"

Just before Christmas I began having pen trouble. Probably because everybody and his brother stopped by to fill in an application, and the pens just couldn't take the wear and tear. The joy of it was that my desk pens are Esterbrooks and the points unscrew readily, to be replaced in an instant. Florence Predmore obliged with new points, and everything was fine until this week. Once again my pen became balky. Even when the ink supply had been replenished it refused to flow. Even when the pen was dipped in the bottle it would not write. Close inspection showed the reason—some strong handed people had used it. The points overlapped and had an interesting dip that wasn't there originally.

Breeding into the stationery department, I demanded, "Florence—which would you rather do, replace this point again or charge out a ball point pen to me?"

Florence laughed. "I'm sure these gentlemen wouldn't like it a bit if I gave you a ball point pen," she said. "They're from the Esterbrook company, and they were just asking where to find you. They have the copy of your Esterbrook column."

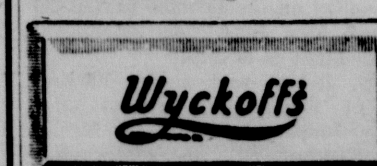

"That's right," Mr. Fitzpatrick agreed. "That was a wonderful column and I wonder what your difficulty is?"

I handed him the pen. "It won't write," I said, "and I don't understand it. I've had an Esterbrook pen on my desk at home several years and I've never had the slightest bit of trouble."

"You use it yourself, exclusively, don't you?" the gentleman with Mr. Fitzpatrick asked. I nodded.

"That's it," he said. "This pen has retired from overwork. You're using too light a point for heavy duty. In a personnel office or at any desk where pens are used by a great many different people, a heavy duty point should be used." Turning to Mrs. Predmore he requested a specific number. This being out of stock, he named a substitute. It was inserted into the handle, and Mr. Fitzpatrick filled it. "Now that pen will last," I was told. "Don't ever make the mistake again of buying a pen point that isn't designed for the work it's to do."

So, at the moment, I have a pen that works delightfully. It's as smooth as music by the Melachrine Strings, and as efficient as a well oiled machine. That's because it's an Esterbrook. And today I'm a bit smarter than I was yesterday—at least about pens, which is something!

RILEY

Sports Editor

I DOUBT very much if interest in the Monroe County Basketball League has ever been higher. There are three teams currently fighting tooth-and-nail for first place, two more that are plenty troublesome and another that is about due to make somebody jump. It all adds up to a terrific flag race, one that may not be decided until the final game of the season, or maybe not until a post-campaign playoff becomes history.

Coolbaugh is currently leading the league with seven victories and one defeat, while Pocono is second with six wins and two setbacks, while Barrett is third on the strength of five favorable nods and three of the unfavorable variety. Anyone of these clubs could do the job and it is quite possible that the winning quintet could lose as many as three contests.

Pocono and Coolbaugh clash on the third time tonight and his game will be one of several "do or die" contests to be played in the league during the next couple of weeks. Pocono and Coolbaugh have divided a pair of meetings this season. Pocono won on its home court and Coolbaugh captured the victory on its own boards. Tonight's contest is set for the Pocono gym in Tannersville.

Barrett, very, very much in the flag race, will risk its chances against Polk, at Kresgeville. Polk is one of the toughest clubs in the entire circuit on its home boards. The other game will feature defending champion Chestnuthill against Tobyhanna Township, on the latter's home floor in Pocono Pines. Tonight's activity could very easily be the biggest single date for the remainder of the campaign.

The big encounter in Tannersville should be an interesting affair. The brilliant Bob Sapp will lead his mates against a Pocono club that opened with a three-game winning streak, dropped two and then bounced back with three more victories. Coolbaugh has been steady all the way, except for the one loss at the hands of Pocono. Sapp has tabbed himself as one of the best cagers in the history of the circuit. Bob brought Coolbaugh back from the brink of an upset loss at the hands of Polk last Tuesday with some brilliant shooting and floor demonstrations.

Three factors will probably govern the outcome of the Tannersville clash. Will Sapp and Gary Smith out-rebound Pocono's Jim "Sticks" Wagner and Ronnie Martinell? Will Pocono's defense be able to halt the quick scoring moves of Dave Keiper? Which team will present the biggest surprise? Although neither camp is ready to admit it, this is the game each has been pointing for in recent week.

You can rest assured that coaches Don Wismer, Coolbaugh, and Harry Wertheiser, Pocono, have something new up their sleeve. This is the contest that each wants to win and this is the battle that will cover much distance in the title struggle. You may also be certain of the fact that both Wismer and Wertheiser are very concerned over future games with Barrett, Chestnuthill and Polk and that neither is taking Tobyhanna Township lightly.

An oddity connected with tonight's rivals is the fact that each had to fight like mad to escape defeat on Tuesday of this week. Sapp's fine play in the late stages against Polk gave Coolbaugh a 48-44 nod, while Wagner's field goal in the last 10 seconds enabled Pocono to outlast a rugged Chestnuthill rival, 66-64. Wagner, although hampered by four fouls, scored six of the last 12 counters credited to his club.

Barrett, featuring a slightly different lineup, will attempt to keep in step with the other two pennant contenders in its meeting with Polk. Both contests will undoubtedly draw capacity crowds and each will be the target of post-game inquiries concerning the score. A Barrett win and a Pocono or Coolbaugh loss will really throw the race wide open, as Barrett still has two games to play with pace setting Coolbaugh, once at Barrett and another at Coolbaugh. It all adds up to a brilliant finish.

Mantle Earns
Baseball Award

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 26 (P)—Mickey Mantle, New York Yankee outfielder, is the 1955 winner of the Oklahoma Old Timers Baseball Assn.'s Art Griggs Memorial Plaque.

The award is voted each year to the Oklahoma major leaguer deemed to have brought his state the most distinction during the preceding baseball season.

Pocono Plays Host To Coolbaugh In Major Struggle

Barrett Risks
Title Hopes
Against Polk

TWO CLASHES that will have a great deal to do with the final standings of the Monroe County Basketball League will highlight today's action when all six teams in the circuit take part in three contests.

First place Coolbaugh and Pocono, the number two club in the standings, will tangle on the latter's home court in Tannersville. Coolbaugh is currently coasting along on top of the pile with seven wins and only one defeat, while Pocono is staying close with a record of six victories and a pair of setbacks.

Both coaches, Don Wismer, Coolbaugh, and Harry Wertheiser, Pocono, are expected to dig deep into their bags of tricks to pull this important tussle out of the fire. Each won a contest in two previous meetings.

Wertheiser and Wismer are expected to go along with the same starting lineups that have carried the bulk of the load for their respective clubs thus far in the present campaign.

Big Battle

Barrett, pushing both Coolbaugh and Pocono from its third place slot, tangles with a tough Polk crew on the latter's home boards in Kresgeville.

The third place contingent has a record of five wins and three setbacks, but has made at least one lineup change and is now ready to make a late season drive toward the title.

Polk and Chestnuthill, the defending champion, are currently tied for the number four spot in the standings with identical marks of three favorable decisions and five setbacks.

Chestnuthill battles winless Tobyhanna Township High at Pocono Pines. THHS has dropped all nine of its circuit outings.

In each case junior varsity activity is on the books for 7:15 p. m. and the main event for approximately one hour later.

Only two games, both of the make up variety, will be played next Tuesday. The pairings will pit Pocono against Polk at Tannersville, while Barrett and Chestnuthill collide at Brodheadsville.

Pastrano To Face Spieser

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 26 (P)—Hard-hitting Chuck Spieser, who has been clamoring for a return match since Willie Pastrano beat him in Chicago last July 27, gets his chance tomorrow night but the odds are 2-1 that Willie will out-punch him again.

Their fight will be televised and broadcast nationally (NBC) from the Miami Beach Auditorium starting at 10 p. m. (EST).

Promising

Pastrano, the 29-year-old hotshot from New Orleans who has convinced many experts that he'll some day be the world's heavyweight champion, says it won't be easy to keep clear of Spieser's murderous punches. He has an overall record of 34 wins, four defeats and four draws.

Since he came out of the Army last March, Spieser, 26, has won six out of seven fights, losing only to Pastrano. Since that defeat, he has been impressive with a technical knockout over Willie Troy in seven rounds and a knockout of Paddy Young in two.

During his career, the Michigan State graduate from Lansing, Mich., has won 20 fights, 12 by knockouts, and lost 13.

Auxiliary To Bowl

AMERICAN Legion Auxiliary Reglers will see action at the Pocono Bowling Center today at 9 p. m. Schedule follows:

Alleys one and two—Woodpeckers vs. Missiles.

Alleys three and four—Five Aces vs. Pixies.

Alleys seven and eight—Bell Ringers vs. Nite Owls.

No Action Slated

NO ACTION is scheduled in either the Lehigh Valley or Lehigh-Northampton Basketball Leagues today and Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg and Bangor will take advantage of the break to gain a degree of rest for second half warfare.

Reese Resigns As President Of Eastburg Little League

DR. EVAN C. REESE last night resigned as president of the East Stroudsburg Little League, during a meeting at the Reese home, and Paul Lloyd was immediately elected president for the coming season.

Reese announced at the meeting that present circumstances make it impossible for him to continue as circuit president. Lloyd quickly named Reese to the board of directors.

Dr. Seymour Pollan was named assistant secretary at the meeting, but the other recently elected officers held their positions. C. A. "Phiz" Nauman, vice president; Cliff Lambert, treasurer, and Henry Reader, secretary.

Officials decided to form a six-team Minor League, a circuit for boys between the ages of eight and 12 not quite good enough to make the regular Little League, which will continue with four clubs.

Uniforms, most of which were lost in the August flood, will have to be replaced, officials announced during the course of the meeting.

Nauman, Lloyd, Frank Laize and Wynne Jones will represent East Stroudsburg at a District Little League meeting in Hazleton next Thursday. Another district meeting, dealing with Bangor, Roseto, Portland, Pen Argyl, Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg and Pocono Little League will be held in the Stroudsburgs on Thursday, February 9.

Pocono Manor Pro Shoots 68
In Thunderbird Invitational

PALM SPRINGS, Calif., Jan. 26 (P)—Jaunty Jimmy Demaret, 43, who has mastered the course before, did it again under leaky skies today as he scored a seven-under par 65 to lead the field in the first round of the $15,000 Thunderbird Invitation golf tournament.

The Texas veteran, like most of the other 41 professionals invited to compete here, encountered showers off and on during the tour of the par 36-35-71 Thunderbird Country Club.

But the weather didn't bother Demaret, winner of the 1953 Thunderbird event, and he moved into a lead of two strokes over his nearest rivals.

Deadlock

Tied at 66 were Julius Boros, Bo Wininger, Doug Ford and Gene Littler, and at 67 were Cary Middlecott, two lesser known pros, Gardner Dickinson of Panama City Beach, Fla., and Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., and the club pro, Jimmy Hines. Art Wall Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa., was one of seven who had 68s.

Things were not so good for the big three of last year's Thunderbird, winner Shelby Mayfield, Mike Souchak and Freddie Haas. They tied after 72 holes a year ago, Haas dropped out after 18 more and Mayfield edged Mike on the 20th hole.

Slow Start

Tommy Bolt, highly regarded by the gallery, wound up with a 71, while still another favorite, Lloyd Mangrum, winner of the recent Los Angeles Open, recovered after a shaky two-over-par first nine and came home with a 32 for 69.

Byron Nelson, in one of his rare appearances, collected a snappy 68 while National Open champion Jack Fleck from Iowa took a 72. Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla., had a par 71, but with help from his amateur partners in the pro-member side event, had the low best ball score, a 54. The member partners were Ed Janss, Ray Kelley and Fred Karlen.

Continue Battle

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (P)—While Most college basketball players struggled with mid-term examinations last week, Darrell Floyd of Furman and Ohio State's Robin Freeman remained in a close race for the 1955-56 individual scoring title.

In 13 games through Jan. 23, the NCAA Service Bureau reported that Floyd had scored 436 points for an average of 33.5 per game. Freeman, for the same number of contests, had tallied 421 points, giving him a 32.4 average.

But, Kresgeville bounced back in the regulation contest last night to earn a 76-69 nod over the same Pocono Lake contingent.

The host club gave a brilliant demonstration of foul shooting to gain the verdict, as each team made good on 29 shots from the field. The winning squad hit on 18 of 26 charity tosses, while Pocono Lake had to settle for 11 of 30 conversions from the foul line.

Pocono Lake moved out in front at the end of the first quarter, 14-10, and enjoyed a 39-32 advantage at halftime. The visiting crew dominated the second quarter, 25-22.

But, Kresgeville led by Dick Keger and Dick Serfass fought back to hold Pocono Lake to an 18-18 draw in the third round and then raced to victory with a 26-12 advantage during the last 10 minutes of action.

Three Monroe County Entries Making Mark On Nine-City Winter Dog Show Circuit In Florida

MONROE COUNTY is making an outstanding mark on the Florida Winter Dog Show circuit. It was announced last night by Mrs. Constance Hubbard, owner of Astolat Kennels, Effort.

Mrs. Hubbard revealed that Ann Dudewicz, owner of Cloud Crest Kennels, Mount Pocono, now has three Shelties in Florida taking part in nine shows.

The trio has appeared in shows at Clearwater, Tampa, St. Petersburg, Sarasota, Miami and Fort Lauderdale. The three shows remaining are at Palm Beach, Orlando, Jacksonville.

Ch. Cloud Crest Color Guard, representing Cloud Crest Kennels, won best of breed honors at St. Petersburg and best of opposite sex at the five other shows. Astolat Star of Cloud Crest, representing the same kennels, was first in the American bred class in all the shows.

Keystone Timmy of Tarsis, the third Sheltie in the group, from Astolat Kennels, captured winners at Clearwater and winners and best of winners at St. Petersburg and Fort Lauderdale and landed reserve winners honors at Tampa and Sarasota. Timmy has picked up four points and needs only one more for his championship.

Astolat Traveler's Paradise, bred by Astolat Kennels, but now owned by Fort Worth, Tex., interests, has won six points and finished his championship at Miami.

Astolat Kennels has five entries and Cloud Crest three in the Westminster Show to be held in New York's Madison Square Garden on Monday and Tuesday, February 13 and 14.

Pilots Attack
Commission

HARRISBURG, Jan. 26 (P)—Two Philadelphia boxing managers, whose licenses were revoked last November by the state Athletic Commission, today attacked Pennsylvania's new athletic code as unconstitutional on four counts.

Carmen Graziano and Anthony Ferrante, co-managers of a string of fighters prior to the revocation of their licenses, made the charge in Dauphin County Court in a legal battle to regain their permits.

Their attorney, Arthur Berman, Harrisburg, attacked the constitutionality of the state athletic code—drawn up last year at the urging of Gov. Leader to "clean up boxing" in the state — on grounds that it:

Illegally delegates exceptional powers to the Pennsylvania state

U. S. Plays Aces In Today's Olympics

By TED SMITS

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy, Jan. 26 (AP)—America leads with a pair of her trump cards—skier Andrea Mead Lawrence and bobsledder Waightman (Bud) Washbond—tomorrow when the seventh Winter Olympic Games shift from pageantry to grim competition.

Mrs. Lawrence, 23, a mother of three and double Gold Medalist in the 1952 games at Oslo, defends her women's giant slalom championship on the barren Canalone slopes of Tofana Hill—a substitute site because of the crags and rocks on Faloria Mountain.

Big Task

Washbond, a stocky gauge maker from East Hartford, Conn., attempts to crack the Italians' pre-Olympic mastery on the risky bobsled run. The first two heats of the two-man event are scheduled tomorrow with the final two Saturday.

Fans got an early taste of the forthcoming competition—but only an appetizer—with two ice hockey games which saw Canada's defending champions smother Germany easily 4-0 and Italy and Austria play to a 2-2 tie in a preliminary round robin.

The bleak peaks of the dolomite alps, thirsty for snow, presented a disheartening backdrop as the games were declared officially open today by the president of Italy, Giovanni Gronchi.

In bright sunshine with no hope of more snow, a crowd of 12,000 watched 1,100 athletes from 32 nations parade past the president's stand. They cheered almost equally for the jaunty Yanks, attired in red fur caps, white jackets and blue pants, and the serious Russians, in somber brown and powder blue.

Two Incidents

Two minor incidents marred the brilliant opening day pageantry. Italy's champion speed skater, Guido Carli, tripped on some wires and fell headlong on the track while carrying the Olympic torch into the stadium. He righted himself quickly, never dropped the torch and skated on to light the flame which will burn steadily until the end of the games Feb. 4.

Just before the ceremonies an unidentified German, dressed in white nightgown, veil, dance cap and ski shoes, created a commotion outside the stadium with a demand for a world sports organization to oppose atomic bombs. He was shoed away.

Four Games In Wayne Conference

HONESDALE — Four games are scheduled in the Wayne County Basketball Conference tonight as the nine-team loop swings into the second half of its 56 games scheduled.

The action is evenly divided between the Northern and Southern divisions with Honesdale at Damascus and Lake Ariel at Preston in the former and Greene-Dreher-Sterling playing host to Hawley and Waymart meeting Moscow in the latter.

As the teams round the bend and head into the stretch, Waymart still leads both divisions although both Hawley and Lake Ariel closed ground in the Northern race Tuesday by registering wins over Damascus and Pleasant Mount, respectively.

Victories

Hawley, paced by Jim Gellatt's 25-point effort, had little trouble with Carl Bell's demons, breezing to a 82-63 victory. Welk (21), Swendsen (17) and Fred Gilchrist (16) did the bulk of the Damascus scoring.

Lake Ariel's 65-38 nod over the Mounties was equally easy. Jim Gregory and Hal Franc were high for Joe Morahan's Lakers with 16 and 13 points as Lake Ariel ran up an advantage in every period.

Berra Becomes Highest Paid Catcher In Major League History By Inking Yankee Contract

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (AP)—New York Yankee catcher Larry (Yogi) Berra celebrated his seventh wedding anniversary today by signing his 1956 contract, which calls for the highest salary ever paid a catcher in major league baseball.

Berra, the American League's most valuable player the past two seasons as well as in 1951, received an undisclosed raise from his 1955 salary, estimated at $45,000. When writers guessed he will receive $50,000 this year, Berra said that was "close enough."

Tops Campy

The figure tops the $42,500 for which catcher Roy Campanella of the Dodgers signed yesterday and only two Yankee players—Babe Ruth and Joe DiMaggio—ever received higher salaries. Ruth's top figure was $80,000 a year while DiMaggio received $100,000. The highest salary ever drawn by Phil Rizzuto was $45,000.

Berra, who will be 31 years old May 12, said he had little difficulty coming to terms with the Yankees.

No Report

Surkont, 34, veteran who had a 7-14 mark last year with a 5.38 earned run average, signed the first contract offered. Whether he took a salary cut is something General Manager Joe Brown did not reveal.

McMahan is a southpaw drafted from the Yankee farm club at Denver in the American Assn. He pitched for Birmingham of the Southern Assn. last season, winning 11 of 16 decisions.

In stop-go truck jobs — Fordomatic pays for itself!

Sure, an automatic transmission is an "extra" to make your job easier. But more important—Fordomatic earns its keep and then some—by saving money for you day in, day out! Here are 7 reasons why:

Fordomatic is now available in all Ford Truck Series up through "one-tonners." Fordomatic takes 90% of the work out of driving, puts more pleasure in. But Fordomatic in your new truck is also a sound business investment! Here's why Fordomatic can repay its extra cost—and go on saving for you!

1. No more clutch expenses

... with Fordomatic! There is no clutch.

2. Fordomatic ends costly repairs

... that can result from shock loads on the drive line with a conventional transmission. For example, shock damage to gears, to differential, to rear axle.

3. You save valuable time

... with Fordomatic, particularly in stop-go work. Fordomatic cuts out 16 hand-and-foot operations at every traffic stop.

4. Tire life gets a break

... Fordomatic feeds power so smoothly to the drive line that you can easily avoid tire-damaging wheel spin on the getaway.

5. Costly holdups in mud or snow

... are less likely, thanks to Fordomatic's ability to deliver low wheel speeds without stalling.

6. More exact shifting saves gas

... with Fordomatic there's no waste of gas through faulty gearshift judgment. Fordomatic shifts automatically with split-second precision.

7. At trade-in time

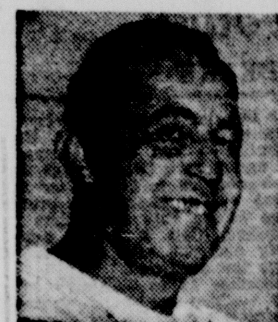

... your truck is almost certain to be worth more because it has Fordomatic. All in all, Fordomatic can pay for itself—and then some!

Most power! Exclusive Lifeguard Design! Bigger payload capacity!

Ford Trucks give you more usable horsepower per dollar than any other truck line—proved by comparisons of net horsepower and suggested list prices of all makes of trucks.

Only Ford Trucks give you such safety features as the new Lifeguard steering wheel and new Lifeguard door latches. New Ford seat belts available.

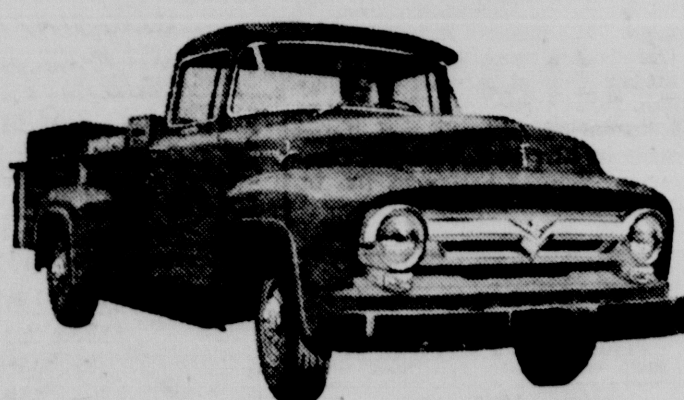

Ford gives you bigger payloads throughout the line. New high-capacity tubeless tires standard on all models, at no extra cost! See your Ford Dealer.

"We've spent practically nothing for maintenance in over 2 1/2 years," says florist Max Rapezyk. "With conventional trucks you can't avoid drive-line shocks. Fordomatic ends all that."

"Fordomatic saves time, means faster deliveries," says pastry distributor A. Selinger. "Getaway is faster, I can keep up with car traffic. Fordomatic cuts route time substantially."

New 8-ft. Pickup box available, at low extra cost, on F-100 (shown), gives you more loadspace than any other 1/2-ton Pickup—up to 19 cu. ft. more. GVW 5,000 lbs.

F.S.A.

Ford Trucks Last Longer! Certified by independent life insurance experts for the ninth consecutive year. Studies of latest license registration data on 10,058,609 trucks shows that Ford Trucks last longer than any of the other four leading truck makes.

Senator Delays Vote On Soil Bank Measure

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (AP)—Sen. Williams (R-De) said today, "I can't vote for the soil bank bill until I know the price tag."

"I may be able to support the administration's proposals but we first should know what they will cost," Williams, a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, told a reporter.

His comments came as Chairman Ellender (D-La) reported the committee favors several multimillion-dollar additions to the original soil bank proposals by President Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

Latest of these is a two-price plan for rice, one of the crops now listed as basic for government price supports.

Under it, producers would be assured by the government of a high-level return on that part of their crop used for food in this country, its territories and Cuba. The balance then would be sold for export or other domestic uses at lower market levels.

Some wheat growers and congressmen from big wheat-growing areas have been urging a similar two-price system on wheat.

Ellender said the committee hopes to begin voting by Tuesday on some parts of the farm program. A key feature, probably not yet ready for votes on details, would set up a soil bank under which farmers would withdraw land from unnecessary production and be paid for doing so.

Secretary Benson estimated that the long-term "conservation reserve" phase of the soil bank would cost 350 million dollars the first year and a billion for the first three years together.

DAILY CROSSWORD

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your future. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Presidency Is Complex Job, Says Speaker

THE JOB of being U. S. president is a highly complex one, a speaker told Rotarians yesterday.

The speaker, Dr. John C. Appel, State Teachers College instructor in social studies, said that each voter has a personal stake in the office. It will again be "vacant" on Jan. 20, 1957, he pointed out.

The presidency carries an enormous series of responsibilities, he said. The president is an executor and an administrator. He appoints some two million people to Federal posts and is commander-in-chief of the armed services, he said. Among other things, he is also the head of his party.

Two Requirements

According to the Constitution, Appel said, there are two qualifications for holding the office: the man must be a native American who is at least 35. Nothing is said about further qualifications.

Political experience, the speaker maintained, is desirable, but not necessary. Governors usually have the best chance of election to the office. Businessmen and farmers have little chance. Education is a help but the candidate need not be a college graduate, the speaker said.

There is no one thing, however, that can assure the election of any one to the presidency. The office is usually filled on the basis of how the people feel and by the type of man the people want, Appel said.

Missionaries To Speak In Baptist Church

REV. AND MRS. Paul Pegors, missionary appointees to Pakistan will speak at First Baptist Church, East Stroudsburg, at 7:30 p.m. today.

Mr. Pegors is a graduate of Bob Jones University, Greenville, South Carolina, and Northwestern School's Seminary, Minneapolis. He and his wife will serve in Pakistan with the Conservative Baptist Foreign Mission Society, Chicago, a fundamental Baptist board with over 300 missionaries in many parts of the world.

Rev. and Mrs. Pegors will spend a few months visiting churches in this country before leaving for Pakistan.

A sound motion picture entitled "Toma, Child of Kivu" will be shown in addition to the missionary message. The film presents work under the Conservative Baptist Foreign Mission Society in the Belgian Congo.

The public is invited to attend.

Hamilton

Mrs. George Everett

Rev. and Mrs. Clyde Levergood, Mrs. Edward Gunn, of Cherry Valley; Miles Kirkhuff Sr. and Mary Voige, of Sciota, and Shirley Adams, of McIlhenny, motored to Philadelphia on a business trip on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roe Van Buskirk and son George, of Sciota, attended the movies at the Sherman Theater on Sunday night in Stroudsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. William Palmer, of Sciota, called on Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hite and family, of Neola, on Sunday.

Mrs. William Palmer was a supper guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Everett Tuesday night.

Garry Van Buskirk, of Sciota, spent Sunday night with his grandmother, Erma Lambert, in Stroudsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. William Palmer called on Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bordonix and family Saturday night.

Democrat Backs Ike Bid For Long-Term Aid Authority

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (P)—A Midwestern Democrat, Sen. Hennings of Missouri, gave his support today to President Eisenhower's request for authority to make long-term commitments for specific foreign aid projects.

Hennings said in a Senate speech that he hopes the administration will resist either Democratic or Republican efforts to "compromise on it, or water it down."

In another foreign aid development, Director John B. Hollister of the International Cooperation Administration announced plans for a two-weeks visit to Latin America to examine U. S. assistance programs.

Hollister will leave by plane Sunday and visit Brazil, Bolivia, Peru, Colombia and Guatemala. Within the last two weeks Russia has expressed interest in developing trade-and-aid relations with Latin America.

Sen. Hennings spoke out in the face of expressed opposition by Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and other important members of both parties to long-range aid commitments.

The Missourian said that countries marked for aid are now "the primary targets for Russian Communist aggression" and this government must be prepared to spend money "for a considerable number of years."

Hennings stressed that long-range planning "was inherent in the Marshall Plan, in the establishment of the original Economic Cooperation Agency, and in other Democratic efforts to save this war-battered world of ours from Communist capture."

Rich Beggars

NEW DELHI, Jan. 26 (P)—Two of India's greatest social problems are beggars and usurious moneylenders. India's state government has found most of its two thousand beggars also are money lenders charging exorbitant interest.

Scientists think the first men to reach America thousands of years ago sometimes killed a species of bison which might have weighed 2,250 pounds with horns six feet from tip to tip.

Aerotrains In Shop For Repairs

DETROIT, Jan. 26 (P)—General Motors is planning to make some changes in its two experimental "Aerotrains."

The trains, which have been making demonstration runs since earlier this month will be taken out of service tomorrow. An announcement by the GM Electromotive Division, which designed the trains, said they will be taken to the Pennsylvania and New York Central Railroad car shops for minor changes designed to deaden sound and improve riding comfort.

These were described as criticisms of the two trains during the demonstration runs. The trains, of unusually light weight, are said to provide operating economy—at least 50 per cent below that of conventional equipment in fuel savings alone.

They will be out of service for about three weeks. The GM announcement said the NYC and the PRR plan later to put the two trains into regular revenue service for a 90-day trial period.

In manufacturing, the number of persons who voluntarily quit their jobs each month runs more than 2 per cent of the labor force, says the National Assn. of Manufacturers.

22 Graduate At College Ceremonies

STATE TEACHERS College conferred degrees on 22 graduates in commencement exercises yesterday at 10 a. m.

Among the graduates were four young men and women from Monroe County. They were Lenox Reid, 219 N. Eighth St., Stroudsburg; Marjorie Besecker, East Stroudsburg RD 3; Walter Dowling, 25A S. Seventh St., Stroudsburg; Lyle A. Dixon, East Stroudsburg RD 3.

All four of the local graduates received degrees of bachelor of science in education.

Only one "high honor" student was named. He was Frank Kresock, who received the degree of bachelor of science in education. Kresock moved to East Stroudsburg from outside the county while attending the local college.

The main speaker for the exercises was Harrison Wood, a commentator and political observer. Degrees were conferred upon graduates by Dr. Theodore Moore, acting college president. Rev. Harold C. Eaton gave the invocation and benediction. The college chorus sang two numbers.

The population of the United States, now in excess of 165 million, has doubled since 1900.

Prexy Hits Confidence Lack In U. S.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (P)—The new president of Brown University said today "the keynote of our age" is that "we have no confidence in the integrity of our own people."

Barnaby C. Keeney, at 41 one of the youngest university presidents in the country, spoke at the 37th annual meeting of the American Council of Learned Societies.

"We have now the greatest powers—physical and mental and social—of any people of any period in the history of the earth," Keeney said in a prepared speech, "and we show the greatest lack of confidence in these same powers."

Keeney said:

Scientists Mere Technicians?
"We cry in loud and piteous voices that the Russians produced more scientists last year than we did, though we do not inquire whether these scientists are able or not; we do not even inquire whether the scientists are merely technicians."

"We cry that we shall soon have twice as many boys and girls of college age and that we shall not have place for them in our colleges, but we do not inquire whether or not there is almost room enough today for the really able ones provided the unable were removed."
